Mass Intentions

Specific Mass intentions for each scheduled Mass listed regularly in this bulletin are made by individual request. Every effort is made to accommodate times or dates as requested but when not possible, the intention will be kept as soon as there is an available opportunity. Requests for Mass intentions should be directed to the rectory by calling 314-373-8202.

FROM OUR RECTOR

Dear Parishioners,

This past Wednesday, the rectory became a bit quieter as we said goodbye to Father Joseph. He departed from us to begin his study of the Italian language in preparation for his studies at the Gregorian University in Canon Law. We wish him all the best and let him know that he is always welcome here at the Cathedral Basilica, his home away from Rome.

In my column last week, I shared with you a brief story of a group of 5th graders from Queen of All Saints Elementary School who came for a tour of the Cathedral Basilica. The students were impressed by their visit and inspired to create some mosaics in Art Class. You will find later in this bulletin a collection of their work. I hope you are as impressed as I was.

As you enter the Cathedral Basilica this week, you may notice that there are a few areas of the basilica that are a bit brighter. Over the past month or so, we have been changing out many of the lights on the lower part of the basilica. I hope you take a moment to walk through the ambulatories and look at the ceilings. You may notice details in those mosaics you never saw before. This small improvement will also help to save a considerable amount in our electric bill each year.

In addition to the lighting improvements, crews have been hard at work at continuing the restoration of our marble floors. Workers are now in the sanctuary/altar area. You may notice that the large candles are missing behind the altar. These will return as soon as the work around the altar is completed. This was done to protect them from damage and to keep them from getting too dirty.

This Sunday, our normal Ordinary Time Sunday is interrupted with the Solemnity of the Presentation of Our Lord. We contemplate the Lord Jesus, whom Mary and Joseph bring to the Temple "to present him to the Lord" (Lk 2:22). This Gospel scene reveals the mystery of the Son of the Virgin, the consecrated One of the Father who came into the world to do His will faithfully.

Simeon identifies him as "a light for revelation to the Gentiles" (Lk 2:32) and announces with prophetic words his supreme offering to God and his final victory. This is the meeting point of the two Testaments, Old and New. Jesus enters the ancient temple; he who is the new Temple of God comes to visit his people, thus bringing to fulfillment obedience to the Law and ushering in the last times of salvation.

ARCHBISHOP'S COLUMN

BEFORE THE CROSS | Access to the power of Jesus is conditioned on the presence of faith

Sacramentals, which help us bring faith into every aspect of our lives, are not superstitions

Archbishop
Robert J. Carlson
Twitter: @abp_carlson

We celebrate the feast of St. Blase this week, and I'd like to talk about the fine line between devotion and superstition.

The Gospel readings this week set us on the right path. We read about the healing of Jairus' daughter, with Jesus' clear instruction to her parents: "Do not be afraid; just have faith." We read about the woman who suffered from hemorrhages for 12 years, how she was healed by touching Jesus' clothes, and Jesus' commendation to her: "Your faith has saved you." We read about how Jesus returned home, and was "not able to perform any mighty deed there, apart from curing a few sick people" because of their lack of faith.

Finally, after hearing about how Jesus performed mighty deeds, we read about how He sent out His apostles with the same powers. It's the first time we see that Jesus intends for His own mission and ministry to be continued through His followers.

That's where St. Blase comes in: The mission and ministry of Jesus also comes to us through him. And so, on his feast day, we customarily receive the blessing of the throats.

This blessing is one of the "sacramentals" of the Church. Sacramentals — like the use of holy water, the veneration of relics, the signing with ashes, and so on — are outward signs. And while they don't convey grace the same way the seven sacraments do, they do "prepare us to receive grace and dispose us to cooperate with it" (Catechism of the Catholic Church 1670).

The Catholic religion is rich with such outward signs! They help us to bring faith into every aspect of our lives. But if it's important to let the faith penetrate every aspect of our lives, it's also important that we use these sacramentals with the right disposition.

There's a danger of falling into superstition as we use the sacramentals. It's important that we refrain — both for our own faith and for the witness we give to others.

It's superstition when we expect the mere external performance of an act (burying a statue of St. Joseph, for instance) or the mere external presence of an object to produce an effect without the interior disposition of faith. In short, we think we're manipulating God. That turns sacramentals into a kind of religious magic, which is exactly what they're not supposed to be.

The Gospels direct us to the right path: Access to the power of Jesus is conditioned on the presence of faith. It was faith, not magic, that allowed the woman to be healed just by touching His clothes. The same holds true for sacramentals such as the blessing of St. Blase.

Let me be clear: I'm not saying we shouldn't use sacramentals. Not at all! On the contrary: we should use them, and do so abundantly! They enrich our lives immensely. But we must do so with the right disposition. We use them rightly when we approach them with devotion, which is built on faith in the power of God.

Weekly Thoughts on Giving

"...they took him up to Jerusalem to present him to the Lord..." (Lk 2:22)

How seriously do you take being a Catholic? Is "being Catholic" something I just do when I attend Sunday Mass or attend one of my parish functions? It's easy to be Catholic then; it's harder to be Catholic when I am out in the world. Would someone recognize you as a Catholic by the way you act, dress, and talk? How do you present yourself to the Lord and to others?

A Thought on The Sanctity Of Life

“When parents say ‘yes’ to life for their child, they are saying ‘yes’ to the most loving and healing path for all involved. When God invites us to draw close to him by following his commandments (Jn 14:15), he does so because he wants what is best for us. By saying ‘yes’ to life for their child, which is morally good and right, parents are placing their trust in God and embracing their child and the life their child has been given for as long as it is given.”

The next class will be held at the rectory on Tuesday, February 25, at 7:00 p.m.

The Pro-Life Ministry’s “30-Minute Speaker Series” continues on Sunday, March 8. Whether you want to simply speak more knowledgeably on the topic or are interested personally in the prospect of adoption, our next talk is for you! You Can Help Carry the Burden

Our Parish is blessed with significant demographic diversity. While many of us live comfortably, a significant number within our Parish boundaries are not nearly so fortunate. The Poor Box, located near the main aisle in the rear of the church, is the primary source of funding for the assistance provided by the Cathedral Chapter of the Society of St. Vincent de Paul. Any help you can give is greatly appreciated.

Blessing of Throats

The annual blessing of throats is a traditional sign of the struggle against illness in the life of the Christian, and is ordinarily given on February 3, the Memorial of St. Blaise. The Blessing of Throats will be offered following each Mass on Monday, February 3.

Our First and Best to the Lord

How do you present yourself to God when you attend Mass? Do you make Sunday Mass a priority or just try to fit it in when it is convenient? Do you prepare for Mass ahead of time? Do you read the Scripture readings and think about what the Lord may be saying to you? What is your disposition when you attend Mass? Are you looking to be entertained? How often do you complain about the homily or the music? Or, do you come to worship and adore God? Do you ask God what He is going to do for you like He is a genie in bottle granting wishes? Or, do you ask God what you can do for Him to help build His kingdom on earth? How do you dress for Mass? Do you take time in silence before and/or after Mass to talk to God personally? Do you make an offering to the Lord or just let the collection plate go by thinking that's someone else's burden. Think of it this way, when you go to a friend or family member's house, you typically prepare ahead of time. You shower, put on nice clothes, think about the other people who may be attending and usually you don't come empty-handed, you bring a bottle of wine or an appetizer. Why wouldn't you do the same before you go to God's house? Remember, God is the Creator of the Universe, He ranks higher than family and friends. Why do you go to great lengths to prepare to meet family and friends, yet for God, you do the bare minimum? Worse, yet, do you just go to Mass out of obligation and not out of love for God? As we start the new year, let's make God the priority and give Him our first and best every day. For more, visit archstl.org/live-the-faith.

A Lasting Gift

Requiescat in Pace

Please pray for the repose of Catherine Anstey, dear mother of parishioner John Anstey, who passed away on January 18, 2020. A Funeral Mass for Catherine was celebrated at St. Margaret of Scotland on January 23.

"Eternal rest grant unto them, O Lord, and let perpetual light shine upon them."

Eucharistic Exposition

The Blessed Sacrament, the very presence of Christ's body and blood in the Eucharist, is reserved in the tabernacle of the Blessed Sacrament Chapel to the east of the main sanctuary. At all hours the Cathedral is open, people may be found praying there before the Lord "face to face." Each Saturday afternoon, beginning at 3:30 p.m., the Eucharist is displayed for prayer and adoration in public exposition in the Blessed Sacrament Chapel for a holy hour. Following this holy hour, the Evening Prayer of the Church with Benediction is celebrated.

Additionally, the Blessed Sacrament is displayed for public adoration and prayer on the First Friday of the month. First Friday Adoration begins at approximately 8:30 a.m., following the completion of the 8:00 a.m. Mass, and concludes with Benediction at 11:45 a.m. Our next First Friday Adoration will be held on Friday, February 7.
