PICK OF THE WEEK

Life for Life

Auschwitz, 1941. One of the prisoners, Jan, escapes from the German concentration camp while working at a gravel pit. Thanks to the help of kind-hearted people, he finds shelter. There Jan hears tragic news about ten random inmates sentenced by the Nazis to death by starvation as a punishment for his escape. One among the convicts is Fr. Maximillian Kolbe, a Franciscan priest who volunteered to die in place of one of the inmates.

FROM OUR RECTOR

Dear Parishioners,

This week I traveled to Washington, DC, for the burial of one of our long-time and most devoted parishioners, Linus Pottebaum. It was certainly a challenge to travel with all the COVID-19 requirements and even more so with the hurricane that hit the east coast, which made the landing in 60 mph winds quite interesting. Along with the family, I was joined by Bishop Coffey for the Rite of Committal.

Words cannot express how touching the ceremony was. A military band usually would play a reverent march, but today it was simply a lone drummer, leading six horses as they pulled a flag-draped casket through tree-lined lanes of Arlington National Cemetery. A team of soldiers transferred the casket from the caisson to be lowered into the final resting place. The U.S. flag was folded and presented to the family on behalf of a grateful nation. A firing party shot 3-rifle volleys — a European military tradition signaling for the battle to resume after a fallen soldier is laid to rest. The mournful sound of taps filled the silenced. I was so grateful to be a part of this special moment.

In this Sunday's Gospel, we find Jesus who, after withdrawing to the mountain, prays throughout the night. The Lord, having distanced himself from the people and the disciples, manifests his communion with the Father and the need to pray in solitude, far from the commotion of the world. This distancing, however, must not be seen as a lack of interest in individuals or trust in the Apostles. On the contrary, Matthew recounts, Jesus made the disciples get into the boat, "and go before him to the other side" (Mt 14:22), where he would see them again. In the meantime, the boat "already a few miles offshore, was being tossed about by the waves, for the wind was against it." (v. 24). And so in the fourth watch of the night [Jesus] came to them, walking on the sea" (v. 25); the disciples were terrified, mistaking him for a ghost and "cried out for fear" (v. 26). They did not recognize him, they did not realize that it was the Lord.

Nonetheless Jesus reassured them: "Take courage it is I; do not be afraid" (v. 27). This is an episode from which the Fathers of the Church drew a great wealth of meaning. The sea symbolizes this life and the instability of the visible world; the storm points to every kind of trial or difficulty that oppresses human beings. The boat, instead, represents the Church, built by Christ and steered by the Apostles. Jesus wanted to teach the disciples to bear life's adversities courageously, trusting in God, in the One who revealed himself to the Prophet Elijah on Mount Horeb "in a still small voice" (the whispering of a gentle breeze). The question I ask myself is: How do I bear the adversities of life? How dependent do I become on the winds and not on Christ?

The great thinker Romano Guardini wrote that the Lord "is always close, being at the root of our being. Yet we must experience our relationship with God between the poles of distance and closeness. By closeness we are strengthened, by distance we are put to the test" (Accettare se stessi, Brescia 1992, 71).

ARCHBISHOP'S COLUMN

BEFORE THE CROSS | Thank you for 11 years of blessing

As I prepare for retirement, I consider the people of the Archdiocese of St. Louis as one of God's gifts to me

Archbishop
Robert J. Carlson
Twitter: @abp_carlson

Many years ago, when I left the Diocese of Sioux Falls, South Dakota, and I was reflecting on all the things we had done in my 10 years there, God spoke to my heart: "Every good thing you accomplished here was not your doing — it was my gift to you."

Now, after 11 years in the Archdiocese of St. Louis, I make those words my own: Every good thing we have done together these years has been God's gift to us and, in a special way, you have been God's gift to me. I thank God, and I thank you, for these gifts.

To my fellow priests: God called me to be your archbishop, and I came to you as an outsider. But you accepted me as one of your own and allowed me to be a priest among priests. That has been one of my greatest joys. Thank you.

To the laity: Your fidelity and generosity have been a tremendous grace. Yes, your financial generosity — the generosity that can be easily measured — has been extraordinary. But deeper than that has been your vocational generosity which, while not easily measured, is even more important! Priests consecrate bread and wine to feed you with the body and blood of Christ. Your fidelity, generosity, creativity and leadership consecrate every nook and cranny of the world to God. Your leadership is no small reason they call this the Rome of the West. Thank you.

The abundant presence of consecrated religious women and men is another reason they call this the Rome of the West. To the religious I say: you have been a lifeline to me, and a witness to so many. In perpetual adoration, in our schools and hospitals, in our parishes and retreat centers, and in so many other ways, the love of Jesus is made practical and visible through your lives of service. Thank you.

To my brothers in the diaconate: Thank you for teaching me about the service of charity and faithfulness to the Word. You brought me closer to one of the great patron saints of the archdiocese, St. Vincent de Paul.

People never cease to be amazed by the Cathedral Basilica of Saint Louis. That's no surprise — it is beautiful! But greater than its physical beauty is the fact that it's an apt symbol of all of you, the living stones in the living Church. Some days, like a mosaic tile, you may feel like your life and role are small. But 41 million acts of fidelity, put together every day, show the good news of Jesus Christ to the world in spectacular fashion. For 11 years you have been, for me, a living cathedral basilica. That has never ceased to amaze me.

If you will allow it, I want to give one last piece of fatherly advice. History is one of the strengths of the archdiocese. Don't let it be your weakness, too. You're strongly grounded in the history and traditions of the faith, so you aren't easily swayed by passing theological or cultural trends. That gave the archdiocese a graced stability in the post-Vatican II era. But the Holy Spirit gives creativity as well as fidelity. When it comes to schools, parishes, and evangelization, this is a time when we have to be open to new things. Let history strengthen you to face new challenges with confidence, rather than bind you to old ways of doing things. Our patroness, St. Rose Philippine Duchesne, can be a model here. Because she was faithful to Jesus she was not afraid to try new missions, even to the last decade of her life. Don't be afraid to follow her lead.

We have done tremendous things together! There are also things we weren't able to do. It doesn't diminish the love between us to admit that. In the end we're forced — as ever — to commend ourselves to the mercy of God. But that's a blessed place to be!

Speaking of what still lies ahead, I have one final request. It is never helpful to compare one archbishop with another. Trust that God, in His providence, has chosen Archbishop Rozanski for what lies ahead. Let him be himself, and don't compare him with anyone else. I've made many requests over the years, and you've always responded generously. I hope you'll be equally generous with this one.

Thank you for everything. God bless you, now and forever?

A Thought on The Sanctity Of Life

“Although we may feel unsure how best to comfort those who mourn, we must stand with them in their time of suffering. Miscarriage touches the lives of many people, yet all too often this tragedy remains unaddressed. This lack of response not only often leads to unresolved grief, but also fails to clearly manifest our belief that each person, from conception onward, is precious and unique.”

Pro-Life Mass

Remember to join us at the Cathedral Basilica on the third Saturday of each month for a pro-life Mass at 8:00 a.m., followed with a rosary procession to Planned Parenthood at Boyle and Forest Park. The next Mass is scheduled for Saturday, August 15.

Infant Baptism

According to the mind of the Church, parents are obliged to see that infants are baptized within the first weeks after birth. As soon as possible after the birth, or even before it, parents should request the sacrament for their child and arrange to be properly instructed in preparation for it. If you are a registered parishioner who is or is about to become a parent or godparent, please contact the rectory at 314-373-8202 to schedule a baptism.

Faith

How strong is our faith in the Risen Christ? According to the Catechism of the Catholic Church, “faith is the theological virtue by which we believe in God and believe all that he has said and revealed to us, and that Holy Church proposes for our belief, because he is truth itself” (CCC 1814). As missionary disciples of Christ, we must not only keep the faith and live rooted in it, we must also profess it, bear witness to it, and spread it to others. Peter took a leap of faith by walking to Jesus on the water, but he lost his faith when he saw how dangerous the sea looked to him. Similarly, we too often lose faith quickly when the storms of life toss us around to places where we do not like to go. We must pray for Christ to strengthen the gift of faith He has given to us in Baptism so that we might be bolder witnesses to the world.

Our next drop off will be on Thursday, August 13 from noon until 1:00 p.m. If you are unable to make this new time, please call Skip or Nicki Batchelor at 916-834-4843 to make other arrangements.

Infant Baptism

According to the mind of the Church, parents are obliged to see that infants are baptized within the first weeks after birth. As soon as possible after the birth, or even before it, parents should request the sacrament for their child and arrange to be properly instructed in preparation for it.

Because We Are Catholic

Our thanks to all parishioners and guests who have made a pledge or a contribution to the 2020 Annual Catholic Appeal. Every gift, no matter how insignificant it might seem, is a testament of our faith - an outward sign of how we love and how convincingly we care. And this year, so many people gave generously and sacrificed greatly to share God's love with our neighbors. Please prayerfully consider a pledge to the ACA if you have not already done so. Contact the parish Business Manager, Tom Fasl, at 314-373-8231 if you wish to make a pledge or contribution. And remember: no gift is too small!

Midweek Music Series - Wednesday at 3:00 pm

Each Wednesday, immediately following the 3:00 pm Rosary Prayer, the Cathedral will present a "Midweek Music" series.

These weekly short recitals will feature 20-30 minutes of music on our magnificent Cathedral organ. We invite you to join us online or in person (social distancing guidelines remain in effect!).

Matthew 25 Come Alive

Often we find ourselves approached on the street with requests for assistance for food or a bus pass. In order to live Matthew 25, parishioners should consider carrying fast food gift cards and a book of bus tickets. That way, you can provide substantive assistance when asked, without resorting to cash. Also, encourage those seeking assistance to call 2-1-1, United Way's assistance hotline, or the Cathedral's SVDP HotLine at 314-373-8288.

Your Caution is Requested

A necessary caution is directed to all who visit the Cathedral Basilica: carefully avoid leaving purses, packages, computers, and other valuables on the car seats or otherwise in plain view when parked on the lot or surrounding streets, even for short periods. Lock belongings in the trunk out of sight. City law enforcement officers and Cathedral security regularly patrol the grounds and parking areas, however everyone should exercise prudent responsibility.
