WELCOME TO OUR VISITORS

Archbishop Mitchell T. Rozanski and the people of the Archdiocese of St. Louis welcome you and hope that your time in our Mother Church may be an opportunity to share our faith and joy in Jesus Christ.

Please enjoy the beauty of this building dedicated to the glory of God and built for the inspiration of all who enter. Public tours of the Cathedral led by volunteer guides are available by appointment, as is access to the Cathedral Gift Shop.

All visitors who are not of the Catholic faith are welcome to join us in prayer, but not to receive Holy Communion. Reception of Holy Communion is a sign of unity of faith and full membership in the Catholic community. Together let us pray for the eventual unity of all believers.

If you desire to become a member of the Catholic Church or to become a member of the Cathedral Basilica Parish, please complete a registration card, available at the entrances the church.

All contributions to the Cathedral Basilica parish, ministries, and maintenance are sincerely appreciated.

FROM OUR RECTOR

Dear Parishioners,

This past week, I had the most wonderful opportunity to take part in the Serra Club Night at the Ballpark with over 400 priests, deacons, religious and seminarians from Kenrick-Glennon Seminary. It was a night with great excitement as Albert Pujols stepped inside the batter's box with the crowd on their feet for an ovation. There was also much excitement in the stands, where many of the priests and religious men and women connected with each other throughout the game. The evening was made possible by the Serra Club of St. Louis, which is a lay apostolate that supports and promotes vocations to the priesthood, diaconate, and religious life.

As our country calls to mind the 20th Anniversary of the 9/11 attack on our country, our parish church welcomes First Responders throughout the Archdiocese for the Annual Blue Mass this weekend. The first "Blue Mass" was celebrated in Washington, DC, a little over 82 years ago. It is a great opportunity to come together, share our faith in the Lord, and ask the Lord for guidance and strength as these men and women fulfill their daily duties, which are difficult.

While riding my bike last Saturday, I was overwhelmed by the Flags of Valor event on Art Hill. The emotion I felt is hard to explain. It was a solemn experience of rows and rows of flags, each equidistant, paying tribute to a person who fought the War on Terror and was taken too soon from us. Standing at the base of Art Hill, you hear the whisper of the American flags and the clinking of dog tags. It is as if each of those men and women is softly speaking to you.

ARCHBISHOP'S COLUMN

Jesus and Mary show suffering can bring about glory

The cross shows us that "self-emptying" is a better way to deal with suffering than the world's ways

ARCHBISHOP

SERVE THE LORD
WITH GLADNESS

Dear brothers and sisters in Christ,

We celebrate two important feasts this week: the Exaltation of the Holy Cross (September 14) and Our Lady of Sorrows (September 15).

These feasts say something important to the general cultural attitude that everything needs to be happy and comfortable — and if anything is not we either need to end it immediately or deny that there's a problem. This is the world's way of dealing with suffering, but it's not working and it won't ever work. The feasts this week show us a better way.

In Philippians 2, St. Paul speaks of Christ "emptying" Himself. The Greek word there is "kenosis." "Self-emptying" is the best translation of the Greek word. But self-humbling and self-gift are important elements of what the term means with reference to Jesus' life.

St. Paul says that because Christ underwent kenosis — emptying Himself, humbling Himself, making a gift of Himself even to the point of death — God exalted Him. Kenosis is, paradoxically, the path to glory.

We see this in the Gospel of John as well. John's Gospel has two parts: the book of signs (chapters 1-12) and the book of glory (chapters 13-20). The centerpiece of the book of glory is, paradoxically, the cross. Following the rules of the world this doesn't make any sense — the cross is a one way ticket to misery. Following the rules of God, however, it makes perfect sense — the cross is the path to glory. As a note in The Great Adventure Bible says, suffering is "the divinely appointed means of progress toward God."

The feast of Our Lady of Sorrows sheds important light on our approach to suffering as well. One of the options for the day is to read (or sing) the sequence known as the "Stabat Mater" — frequently sung as "At the Cross Her Station Keeping." Mary stands by the cross. She can't make her son's suffering stop. But she doesn't turn away, or attempt to minimize it. She never gives in to the covert denial of the platitude: "It's all good." She gives strength to her son, and helps Him endure His suffering, by standing by Him. It's the same kind of strength that Blessed Franz Jaegerstaetter's wife gives to him in the film "A Hidden Life": in standing by him, she gives him strength to see his trials through to the end. It's a spiritual kind of labor pain, and it's very fruitful.

This pattern is reflected in the first beatitude: Blessed are the poor in spirit — those who humble themselves; the kingdom of heaven is theirs — they will be exalted. The beatitude contains an invitation: the relationship between kenosis and exaltation isn't just something that happened to Jesus, it's meant to be the pattern of every Christian life. As the Catechism says, Jesus wants us to live the mysteries of His life, and He wants to live them again in us. (Catechism of the Catholic Church, 521)

This week, let's think about the passion of Jesus and the compassion of Mary. Together they offer us a more fruitful way to deal with suffering. They show us that suffering, rather than being a one way ticket to misery, can actually be a bridge to glory.

A Thought on The Sanctity Of Life

“By our baptism, we are members of Christ’s body and sharers in his mission. Imitating Christ, we must care for all members of our communities, honoring each person as unique, sacred, and created in the image of God.”

USCCB, “Open Wide Our Hearts”

Welcome Back Students

Among those who regularly join us at the Cathedral, especially on Sundays though often during the week as well, are students from the nearby universities, medical schools, and the College of Pharmacy. With the new school year commencing, our students have returned and we welcome them back.

Students, your youth and your prayerful faith witness is appreciated. Please know the Cathedral Staff and parish is here for your assistance, now and at all times throughout the year. Welcome back!

Pro-Life Mass

Remember to join us at the Cathedral Basilica on the third Saturday of each month for a pro-life Mass at 8:00 a.m., followed with a rosary procession to Planned Parenthood at Boyle and Forest Park. The next Mass is scheduled for Saturday, September 18.

Infant Baptism

According to the mind of the Church, parents are obliged to see that infants are baptized within the first weeks after birth. As soon as possible after the birth, or even before it, parents should request the sacrament for their child and are to be properly instructed in preparation for it. Godparents are also encouraged to attend baptismal preparation before the child is born. If you are a registered parishioner who is or is about to become a parent or godparent, contact Laura Voegelie at 314-373-8202 to schedule a baptism or to register for baptismal preparation class.

St. Vincent de Paul Membership

Members of the Cathedral St. Vincent de Paul Society meet weekly. Members are committed to aiding fellow parishioners and neighbors with necessities such as food, clothing, utilities, and rent—all in the context of the Christian imperative. If interested in becoming a member or in learning more about the Society and our Conference, please leave a message on the SVDP HotLine at 314-373-8288.

Weekly Thoughts on Giving

"Whoever wishes to come after me must deny himself, take up his cross, and follow me." Mk 8:34
Living a stewardship lifestyle means not only being responsible for my own life, but for the lives of others as well. We realize that our gifts are not intended for ourselves, rather they are meant to be shared with others. "Taking up my cross" means doing things when someone else needs me and not when it's convenient for me.

Anima Christi Young Adults

All young adults interested in growing the fellowship of our young adult community are invited to the next young adult gathering scheduled for Thursday, September 16. We begin with Adoration and confessions in the church at 6:30 pm (enter through the west door by the playground), followed by dinner in Boland Hall at 7:30 p.m. Please join us, in full or in part, to deepen your relationship with Christ and with one another. For additional information, please e-mail the group at AnimaChristiStL@gmail.com.

RCIA

Have you ever thought about becoming a Catholic?
Do you know someone who might be interested in becoming Catholic?
Are you interested in finding out more about the Catholic Church?
Is your spouse, fiancé, neighbor, or friend interested?

The Rite of Christian Initiation of Adults (or RCIA) enables those who are interested in the Catholic faith to “find out what it is all about”. Most often, people come because they are invited. Be the voice of Christ and offer the first invitation to someone you know who might be interested in the Catholic faith!

RCIA is for persons who have never been baptized, were baptized in another Christian tradition, or were baptized Catholic but have never celebrated Confirmation or received First Communion. Anyone who is interested in deepening their understanding of the Catholic faith is also invited to attend!

The 2021-22 RCIA session will begin on Sunday, September 12.
