FROM OUR RECTOR

Dear Parishioners,

Next Sunday, November 28, we begin the Season of Advent. The word “Advent” is from the Latin “Adventus,” which means “coming.” Advent is the beginning of a new liturgical year (in the Western churches), and encompasses the span of time from the fourth Sunday before Christmas until the Nativity of Our Lord is celebrated.

Like Lent, Advent is a preparatory season. It has significance because it is a season of looking forward and waiting for something greater — both for the annual celebration of the event of Christ's birth, and for the time when Christ will come again.

Mark your calendar for Saturday, December 11, when we will welcome Archbishop Rozanski to the Cathedral for a Advent afternoon of recollection. It will begin at 1:00 pm and include a reflection by the Archbishop, time for prayer, Sacrament of Penance and Eucharistic Adoration. If you are unable to be present, please be with us via our livestream at cathedralstl.org/live.

Abraham Lincoln declared November 26, 1863—the last Thursday in November—a Day of Thanksgiving. The Battle of Gettysburg, in early July of 1863, had cost some 50,000 American casualties, and the sacrifice moved President Lincoln: “. . . When I went to Gettysburg and saw the graves of thousands of our soldiers, I then and there consecrated myself to Christ.”

During that time of internal strife in the United States, and at this turning point in his own spiritual life, President Lincoln called for prayer and thanksgiving for the nation, saying in part, “. . . It is announced in the Holy Scriptures and proven by all history, that those nations are blessed whose God is the Lord . . . It has seemed to me fit and proper that . . . God's blessings should be solemnly, reverently, and gratefully acknowledged, as with one heart and one voice, by the whole American people.”

Monsignor Henry Breier

Thanksgiving Mass

On Thursday, November 25, our nation observes a day of Thanksgiving. On this day, all are encouraged to mark with gratefulness our rich heritage of material blessings and national freedoms. Christians the world over recognize that the “supreme thanksgiving” is perfectly expressed for us by our Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ, in His Redemptive Sacrifice through the Eucharist, the sacrifice which makes the Church.

In gratefulness for all blessings bestowed upon us as a people of faith, please join us for our special Thanksgiving Day Mass at 9:00 a.m. on Thursday, November 25.

ARCHBISHOP'S COLUMN

Sharing the Good News can start with conversing about our faith lives

ARCHBISHOP

SERVE THE LORD
WITH GLADNESS

If asked 'How was your weekend,' our response can include our celebration of the Eucharist, our weekly thanksgiving

Dear brothers and sisters in Christ,

"How was your weekend?"

People ask us this question all the time. In response we talk freely about different things we did over the weekend — but we often (and studiously!) avoid mentioning anything about Church. Jesus could rightly point this out and name it for what it is — a double standard.

Next week people are going to ask us, "How was your Thanksgiving?" In response, we'll talk about the things we did and tell stories about things that happened with family and friends. And in the retelling, we'll relish details of the food and the events and the relationships.

The first thing I want to say is, all of that is good!

But I want to add one point. The term "Eucharist" is a Greek word that translates into English as "thanksgiving." In other words, as Americans we celebrate a big Thanksgiving once a year, but as Catholics we celebrate a little thanksgiving every week. So, when people ask us about our weekend, we can tell stories and relish details about how Jesus and faith and community were part of our weekend, just as naturally as we share stories about the Thanksgiving holiday.

I say this partly because we're in the midst of a strategic pastoral planning process whose central focus is evangelization. Catholics are often unsure about what evangelization means or involves. One of the first and easiest things it involves is sharing our faith with others, and that can be as simple and natural as saying something about Church — our little thanksgiving — when we tell them how our weekend was.

The comparison is important because it helps to clarify something. When we tell people about our weekend we're not pushing our family traditions on them, or pressuring them to convert to our family.

The same is true when we include elements of our faith life in that conversation. We're not proselytizing — pushing religion on people or pressuring them to convert. We're just inviting the conversation to run a little deeper. People are free to accept the invitation or not. But you'd be surprised how many people want to talk about faith, or God, or struggles and prayer — how many people would like the conversation to run a little deeper than the football game we watched or the soccer game we attended or the restaurant we tried.

We are going to reset some external structures of parish life in the next few years. But it doesn't make sense to reset external structures without renewing internal structures of how we live and share the faith. In fact, quite the opposite is true: We want to reset the external structures of parish life precisely so that we can deepen the way we live and share the faith.

That means we need to start thinking and talking about what evangelization means for us as Catholics. The first thing I want to suggest is that evangelization — sharing the Good News — can start with something as simple as answering the question: "How was your weekend?"

Have a Happy Thanksgiving!

NOVEMBER 21, 2021

Archdiocese of St. Louis
Office of the Archbishop

November, 9, 2021

Dear Brothers and Sisters in Christ,

On Sunday, November 21st, our diocese will take up the national collection for the Catholic Campaign for Human Development (CCHD), which is the domestic anti-poverty program of the U.S. Catholic Bishops. CCHD works to carry out the mission of Jesus Christ "... to bring good news to the poor ... release to captives ... sight to the blind, and let the oppressed go free." (Luke 4:18)

Your support for this collection brings real change: not a hand out, but a hand up. CCHD is unique because it empowers families and communities to chart their own paths to economic independence, local power, and justice for the marginalized in our community—organizing essential workers to earn fair wages; enabling small farmers to grow their food sustainably for area restaurants; and bringing justice and dignity to those unfairly punished or on death row. In the Kingdom, God calls us not only to exhibit mercy and charity, but also to promote justice, which is the aim of CCHD.

In addition to making an impact nationally, those living in poverty in our own archdiocese are empowered through the 25% share of our collection that stays here. For the past five years, eleven projects from the St. Louis Archdiocese have received a total of $514,000 in national awards. Recent local grantees of CCHD funds include:

Missourians for Alternatives for the Death Penalty, which worked to develop policies that end capital prosecutions and address historic wrongs in convictions; provided education outreach; and empowered exonerees to become advocates for criminal justice reform.

Inter-Faith Committee on Latin America, which equipped Latin community leaders to advocate locally and federally for policies supporting human rights and social justice.

A Red Circle, which empowered low-income residents to grow and distribute fresh produce, explore careers in food and entrepreneurship, and better understand food justice and racial equity.

Your support for this collection helps people in our community—especially now, as the health and financial well-being of our most vulnerable citizens have been further harmed by COVID. Please prayerfully consider how you are able to help CCHD this year. If you would like more information about the collection and the people it supports, visit cchdstl.org.

Thank you for joining us in this sacred work.

Sincerely yours in Christ,

+ Mitchell T. Rozanski

Eucharistic Exposition

The Blessed Sacrament, the very presence of Christ's body and blood in the Eucharist, is reserved in the tabernacle of the Blessed Sacrament Chapel to the east of the main sanctuary. At all hours the Cathedral is open, people may be found praying there before the Lord "face to face." Each Saturday afternoon, beginning at 3:30 p.m., the Eucharist is displayed for prayer and adoration in public exposition in the Blessed Sacrament Chapel for a holy hour. Following this holy hour, the Evening Prayer of the Church with Benediction is celebrated.

Additionally, the Blessed Sacrament is displayed for public adoration and prayer on the First Friday of the month. First Friday Adoration begins at approximately 8:30 a.m., following the completion of the 8:00 a.m. Mass, and concludes with Benediction at 11:45 a.m. Our next First Friday Adoration will be held Friday, December 3.

St. Vincent de Paul Membership

Members of the Cathedral St. Vincent de Paul Society meet weekly. Members are committed to aiding fellow parishioners and neighbors with necessities such as food, clothing, utilities, and rent—all in the context of the Christian imperative. If interested in becoming a member or in learning more about the Society and our Conference, please leave a message on the SVDP HotLine at 314-373-8288.

Weekly Thoughts on Giving

"Jesus answered, 'My kingdom does not belong to this world.'" (John 18:36)

Life is short. How much time, energy and money do you put into building "your" kingdom here on earth? We all know we can't take it with us. The real kingdom is in the next life. Yet, how much time, energy and money do you invest in working for that eternal kingdom? Ask God for His guidance. Detach from earthly possessions. Generously share your material goods with others for the greater glory of God.
