FROM OUR RECTOR

Dear Parishioners,

We are now within the Easter Season and the Cathedral is a busy place mainly on the weekends as we host the Sacrament of Confirmation for the parishes of the Archdiocese. This is quite an undertaking, and I am so grateful to the many volunteers from the Cathedral parish who assist as ushers. There is truly no way we could welcome so many without their help. If you are interested in being a part of this ministry, please call the rectory. Your help would be greatly appreciated.

The Annual Catholic Appeal has one primary goal – proclaim the Gospel. Often it is seen as a collection or fundraising appeal. The Appeal does raise money but only so that the Catholic community has the resources to announce the Gospel. How? Principally by loving others, showing compassion and care for the hungry, the thirsty, the homeless, the imprisoned, the sick and dying, and the naked. Thank you for your generosity to the Annual Catholic Appeal.

The 4th Sunday of Easter is affectionately called Good Shepherd Sunday. Our gospel this week reports the second part of the passionate speech with which Jesus presents Himself as the "good shepherd." He also uses the image of the gate where the sheep he gathers, guides and defends even at the cost of his own life's cost to enter. He clarifies: "The hired hand, who is not the shepherd and does not own the sheep, sees the wolf coming and leaves the sheep and runs away-and the wolf snatches them and scatters them. The hired hand runs away because a hired hand does not care for the sheep."

In a time full of wolves who kidnap and destroy and of hired hands - among them the false prophets who deceive so many people in the world - together with the great mass of indifferent people, the Lord asks of us a new passion: to be with him "shepherds" of the crowds of our time. We come up with excuses, perhaps saying that we are only "sheep" ourselves.

The Gospel tells us that the shepherd is a sheep who has learned how to love, who has begun to have Jesus' same feelings. That is why Jesus says to the disciples: "I send you like lambs among wolves." And the lambs are softened sheep who have widened their hearts, who see beyond their own habits, their own closures and who, together with Jesus, also say: "I have other sheep that do not belong to this fold. I must bring them also, and they will listen to my voice. So there will be one flock, one shepherd."

ARCHBISHOP'S COLUMN

Step into an apostolic mode

In an apostolic mode, we need to shift to preach the Gospel to everyone, even when people aren't coming to us

ARCHBISHOP

SERVE THE LORD
WITH GLADNESS

Dear brothers and sisters in Christ,

“The apostles and the brothers who were in Judea heard that the Gentiles too had accepted the word of God.”

The readings this week tell us about the beginning of an important shift in the early Church: from the proclamation of the Gospel only to the Jewish people to the proclamation of the Gospel also to the Gentiles.

This shift contained a seed of enormous growth for the early Church. It also left some things to be worked out. For example, the Church needed to come to a new understanding of what the Jewish law meant for Gentile Christians.

The Church today is also undergoing an important shift. For a long time, we've been content to proclaim the Gospel to those who are already coming to us — what some have called a “Christendom” or “maintenance” mode of being Church. For many years, we've been talking about, and now are just beginning to make the shift to, proclaiming the Gospel to those who are not already coming to us — what some are calling an “apostolic” or “mission” mode of being Church.

This shift contains the seed of tremendous growth for the Church. In that respect, we need to embrace it. It also leaves some things to be worked out — and we need to embrace that, as well!

Let me be clear: unlike in the early Church, we're not talking about working out any new doctrinal points. As we make the shift from Christendom to an apostolic mission, the teachings of the Church are not up for negotiation!

What we do need to look at, however, is the basic mindset of some of our operations. I think Pope Francis was on to something when he said: “I dream of a ‘missionary option,’ that is, a missionary impulse capable of transforming everything, so that the Church's customs, ways of doing things, times and schedules, language and structures can be suitably channeled for the evangelization of today's world rather than for her self-preservation” (“Evangelii Gaudium,” 27).

In a Christendom mode, we can assume that people will come to us; in an apostolic mode, we know that we need to go out to find people where they are. In a Christendom mode, we can assume that people will basically agree with us on issues of morality, philosophy and theology; in an apostolic mode, we know that people need basic conversions on all those fronts. In a Christendom mode, we can drift along with the current of culture and be faithful; in an apostolic mode, we have to swim against the current of culture to be faithful.

At the end of the week, on May 14, we celebrate the feast of St. Matthias, who replaced Judas among the 12. St. Matthias was chosen to step into an apostolic role. What a fitting time to reflect on the fact that, in today's Church, we're being asked to step into an apostolic mindset.

CATHEDRAL CONCERTS 2021 - 2022 SEASON

Cappella Romana

Friday, May 20, 2022 8:00 PM

Lost Voices of Hagia Sophia

"Lost Voices of Hagia Sophia ... brings to life the stately mystery of Byzantine cathedral liturgy, bathed in the glittering acoustics of the space for which it was written ... Chords unfurl in reverberant bloom..." The New York Times

Cappella Romana is a professional vocal ensemble that performs early and contemporary sacred classical music in the Christian traditions of East and West. The ensemble is known especially for its presentations and recordings of medieval Byzantine chant (the Eastern sibling of Gregorian chant), Greek and Russian Orthodox choral works, and other sacred music that expresses the historic traditions of a unified Christian inheritance.

Cappella Romana brings to life music that meets a deep human need, not only to belong and to have a shared creative experience, but to feel the full range of ethical, emotional, and spiritual effect as expressed through music. We strive to give an experience that allows you, our audience, to feel a sheer joy that cannot be contained by mere words, but through the ineffable sounds of the human voice in song.

Weekly Thoughts on Giving

"The disciples were filled with joy and the Holy Spirit." (Acts 13:52)

The disciples heard Our Lord's call and were able to spread the Gospel message with strength and vitality. We, too, can experience that same joy if we make room for the Holy Spirit to fill our hearts. When we use our gifts in the way that God intends, He fills us with supernatural joy. A joy that others notice and are attracted to!
