FROM OUR RECTOR

Dear Parishioners,

Next Saturday, May 28, I will celebrate my 28th anniversary of Ordination to the Priesthood. It is hard to believe that the years have passed and seemingly so quickly. There are so many happy memories to recall during these years, and so many people that I have encountered. Many of those wonderful memories have been at the Cathedral Basilica Parish. My deep gratitude to you all for welcoming me, and providing me with so many memories.

Fra Angelico, the famous Dominican artist, is buried in the Church of Santa Maria Sopra Minerva in Rome. On his tomb, the following phrase, a hallmark of the saintly painter's life, is inscribed: Chi fa cose di Cristo, con Cristo deve stare sempre, which is translated, "He who does the things of Christ must remain with Christ always." I recall these words because, in the celebration of Mass, no one is "doing the things of Christ" more than we priests. It follows that we must "remain with Christ always", particularly through prayer and adoration where he is present, body and blood, soul and divinity, in the Sacrament of the Altar. These words are inspiring and also very challenging to me.

I also call them to mind as the Archbishop will ordain two men, Deacon Donald Morris and Deacon Eugene Schaeffer, to the Order of Priesthood on the 28th of May. The Ordination will be a joyful moment for the Archdiocese of St. Louis and all are welcome to attend.

Two sides of Christian living are reflected in today's readings. The Gospel radiates a calmness and peace and reassurance that we all need so much. The First Reading, however, reflects the areas of difference and conflict that are bound to arise when even Christians come face to face with new problems and new questions for the articulation of their faith. Such conflicts, when properly handled, are necessary, even desirable, if we are to have a deeper understanding of the real meaning of our faith in a changing world.

Monsignor Henry Breier

Early Alert for the Holiday

On Monday, May 30, our nation honors all men and women who have given their lives in the defense of our national freedoms. It seems appropriate for Catholics to remember these men and women by joining together in the celebration of the Lord, "who laid down His life that we may be free from sin & death." Please join us for Mass at 8:00 a.m. on Memorial Day.

ARCHBISHOP'S COLUMN

Changes in our mode of doing things can bear good fruit

ARCHBISHOP
ROZANSKI

St. Paul altered the way he preached the Gospel, which was necessary to build the Church

SERVE THE LORD
WITH GLADNESS

Dear brothers and sisters in Christ,

“Now I am leaving the world and going back to the Father” (John 16:28).

This week's Gospel readings prepare us for the Ascension. It's crucial for us to reflect on this mystery and understand it properly. In the deepest sense, after the Ascension, Jesus doesn't cease to be present in the world. Rather, He changes the way He's present to us. He's no longer present in His physical body; but His mystical body (the Church) and His sacramental body (the Eucharist) remain. He's no longer present simply outside of us; now He's also present within us. Jesus Himself says of this change: “It is better for you that I go.” In order to deepen our relationship with Him, this change needs to happen.

“Paul left Athens and went to Corinth” (Acts 18:1).

Providentially, as we prepare for the Ascension, and we're reading sequentially through the Acts of the Apostles, we just happen to be reading the section this week in which Paul is constantly leaving one community and going to another. “And Paul left them” is something of a refrain, occurring five times in this week's readings!

I want to draw our attention to two important departures that we hear about this week.

The first is when Paul leaves Athens for Corinth. He's just given a brilliant speech at the Areopagus, blending an openness to Greek culture with a clear proclamation of the Gospel. In some ways it's a great model for our engagement with culture. But, in terms of bearing fruit, the speech basically falls flat. Some scoff; others tell him to come back another time; only a few become believers. “And so Paul left them,” because that mission wasn't bearing fruit. And when he went from Athens to Corinth, he decided that he would simply and boldly proclaim the Cross.

The second departure is when Paul is in Corinth, proclaiming Christ in the synagogue, and he's opposed and reviled. In response Paul says, basically: “That's it. I'm done here. I'm going to the Gentiles!”

In both cases Paul didn't change whether he did ministry and whether he proclaimed the Gospel. What changed was how he did those things. And, for the sake of the spread of the Good News, both changes needed to happen.

So, when we think of Jesus this week, we should reflect on how He changed his mode of presence after the Ascension. That change wasn't easy, but it was good.

And, when we think of the early Church this week, we should reflect on how St. Paul changed the mode of his ministry and proclamation of the Gospel. That change also wasn't easy, but it was good.

Both of those changes can help us think about All Things New. All Things New will not change whether we have parish life, but it will change how we think of parish life. I'm firmly convinced that this change needs to happen, and that it will be good. That doesn't mean it will be easy! But I think we can draw helpful lessons — and hope — from the history of the Church and the readings this week.

Priesthood Ordination

As with the upcoming Feast of Pentecost, the faithful of the Archdiocese will give witness to the special gift of the Holy Spirit on Saturday, May 28th, when Archbishop Mitchell Rozanski will ordain two young men to the priesthood at a special Mass here at the Cathedral Basilica. Transitional deacons scheduled to be ordained are:

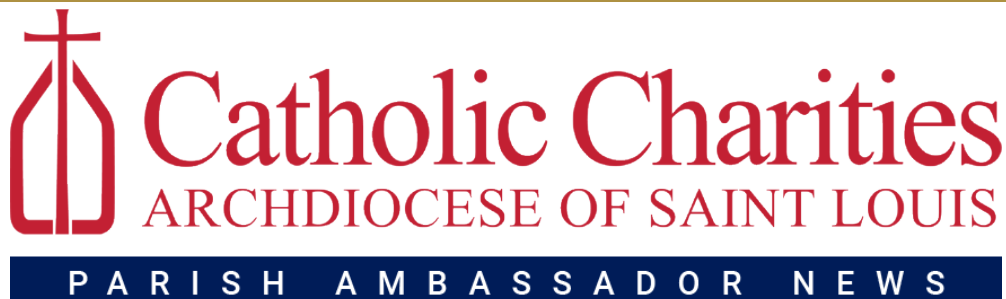

Reverend Mr. Donald Morris

Reverend Mr. Gene Schaeffer

Following the ordination Mass, which will begin at 10:00 a.m., a reception of “First Blessings” will be held in Rosati-Kain’s gym, giving all in attendance the opportunity to meet and congratulate the new priests and their families. Please pray for these and all of our newly ordained as they begin their journey as God’s own shepherds.

May is Mary's Month

In a longstanding tradition of the Church, May has been a time for attention to our devotion to Mary, our Blessed Mother. Because of Jesus' words from the Cross, "Son, behold your Mother," we know that it is His intention that we learn faith from the mind, heart, and hands of Mary. You are encouraged to look at the example, intercession, and encouragement Mary offers us in living for Christ. Especially this month, praying the rosary is a particularly appropriate daily devotion.

PRAY FOR THE SICK

It is our responsibility in the Lord to remember the sick, who are especially close to the Redeemer in their suffering.

A Thought on The Sanctity Of Life

“The tragic U.S. Supreme Court decision of Roe v. Wade has allowed for the destruction of millions of innocent lives through legalized abortion. The Supreme Court is now in the process of deciding a case that has the potential to weaken, or even overturn, Roe v. Wade. As the Court prepares to release its decision in Dobbs v. Jackson Women’s Health Organization, Christians across the country are uniting in prayer for this important case. Society as a whole must respect, defend and promote the dignity of every human person, at every moment and in every condition of that person’s life. May we commit ourselves to urgent prayer and fasting, that the Court may act to uphold the dignity of unborn human life.”

Weekly Thoughts on Giving

"...Do not let your hearts be troubled or afraid." (JOHN 14:27)

Our limited human understanding cannot begin to understand the immense power of God. Instead of trusting in God, we often think we can control every outcome. Do you want to make God laugh? Tell Him your plans. The next time worry, anxiety or fear creeps in, thank God for all He has given you and trust that He has a better plan for you. Make God your first choice and not your last resort.
