FROM OUR RECTOR

Dear Parishioners,

As I am sure that you are aware, the Archdiocese of St. Louis is in the midst of a strategic planning initiative, "All Things New," which addresses the changing demographics. To make proactive rather than reactive decisions, the Archdiocese has partnered with the Catholic Leadership Institute to develop a plan to keep the Catholic Church vibrant. This means that every parish is involved in the process and parish vibrancy, leadership, ministries, and facilities are evaluated.

You may remember the Disciple Maker Index Survey you were asked to complete. We recently received the results. The data that Catholic Leadership Institute has provided is massive and it takes time to digest all of the data that is presented. In this week's bulletin you will find a portion of the Archdiocesan results. A more comprehensive view of the results can be found at allthingsnew.archstl.org.

The Cathedral Basilica had a good participation rate in the survey with 340 individuals responding. Overall, Cathedral parishioners are satisfied with the parish. The top strengths of the parish are: the belief Scripture is the Word of God and that the Eucharist is the Body and Blood of Christ. We also scored very high in Mass attendance, individual prayer, and Catholic devotions.

The area where all Archdiocesan parishes need improvement is helping individuals feel comfortable sharing their faith experience with others. Families do not effectively share the faith with their children and only a tiny minority have asked a young person to consider priesthood or religious life. There are many reasons for this but this is a challenge we all must face moving forward.

As the Archdiocese moves forward, the timeline will look like this. The Catholic Leadership Institute and various archdiocesan committees are processing the survey and other information that is being provided by parishes. In August, an initial set of suggestions will be shared with priests. They will provide input and in October a refined set of plans will be shared throughout the Archdiocese at Listening Sessions. Two sessions will take place at each parish. The dates for our session have not been determined yet. On the next Pentecost Sunday, May 28, 2023, the Archbishop will share the final plan with the faithful of the Archdiocese.

In the meantime, we must pray for those making decisions and for all those who are directly impacted by the decisions.

ARCHBISHOP'S COLUMN

Infidelity to God has consequences, but our hope remains in Jesus

Jesus calls sinners, but we still have to work on cleansing ourselves of sin

ARCHBISHOP
ROZANSKI

SERVE THE LORD WITH GLADNESS

Dear brothers and sisters in Christ,

This week we hear from the prophet Amos, and also hear about the call of Matthew. Both contain a tale of two mistakes for our consideration.

The prophet Amos was sent to the northern tribes of Israel in the mid-700s BC. It was a time of economic prosperity, but his message was not congratulatory. Instead, he was sent to point out that Israel's infidelity to the covenant, and the injustices that the powerful were committing against the powerless (he gave a long and detailed list!) would lead to dire consequences. Those consequences were fulfilled just a few years later, when the Assyrian empire came and destroyed the northern tribes.

At the end of the week, however, we hear Amos' final message: that, after the time of consequences, God would send a time of restoration. What Amos foretold was a kind of national dying and rising that would ultimately be fulfilled in Jesus.

Amos' prophetic message was a tale of two mistakes that ancient Israel made in thinking about their relationship with God. The first was the idea that, because of God's goodness, the people's infidelities and injustices didn't matter. Wrong, said Amos! Infidelity and injustice have consequences. The second mistake was the idea that because there were dire consequences, there was no hope. Wrong again!

The key is to realize that both mistakes were partial truths. God is always faithful — but there are still consequences to infidelity and injustice. And, even in the midst of terrible consequences, there's still hope of restoration. It was important for Israel, and it's important for us, to reflect on both of those mistakes.

The call of Matthew — recounted in Matthew 9 — also present us with a tale of two mistakes.

Remember that Matthew was a tax collector. That meant he was a collaborator with the foreign and occupying power of Rome and he benefited financially from his collaboration. Jesus calls this man to be an apostle!

And there's the diagnosis of the first mistake: the idea that you have to get cleaned up from all the sins in your life before Jesus will call you to follow Him. Jesus didn't wait until Matthew was cleaned up. He called him right in the midst of his sin. And then, as if to reinforce the point, Jesus went from the one to the many: immediately after calling Matthew, He dined with a great number of tax collectors and sinners at Matthew's house!

But here's the second mistake: the idea that, because Jesus calls sinners, we don't have to work on cleansing ourselves of sin. Jesus calls us in the midst of sin precisely in order to call us out of sin. We're not disciples just because He calls us. Jesus called Zacchaeus; Zacchaeus responded with repentance. Jesus called the rich young man; the rich young man walked away. Jesus called the Samaritan woman at the well; she followed Him. Jesus called Pilate and the Pharisees; they walked away.

The Gospels are full of stories of Jesus calling people right in the midst of their sinful lives. But the Gospels also warn us that some people followed the call and changed their lives, while others rejected the call and remained in their sins.

Pope Francis once challenged us not to offer the world less than what Jesus offers. When we tell the world that Jesus doesn't call sinners, we offer less than what Jesus offers. When we tell the world that sinners don't need to repent, we offer less than what Jesus offers. Let's avoid both mistakes, and offer the world all that Jesus offers.

For the Poor

On the first Sunday of every month, the Cathedral Parish collects foodstuffs and canned goods (non-perishable items only, please!) for delivery to food pantries in the area. Our next parish food drive will be held on Sunday, July 3rd.

Eyeglass Drive

"The Respectacle Project," an eyeglass recycling program, will be accepting donations of quality used eyeglasses on Sunday, July 3rd, in the baskets near the sanctuary at the side aisles.

Mission Appeal

Join with the missionaries who dedicate their lives so that others might come to know Christ and live in the faith that is our joy. On July 3rd a priest from the Philippines—Father Anthony Bautista of the Religious Institute of the Alagad ni Maria (Disciples of Mary) will be sharing his missionary experience among the young.

We would like to invite you to take part in his mission apostolate through your prayers and donations as he reaches out to so many youth who are confronted by the serious challenges of addiction, materialism, violence, and abuse.

What an opportunity you will have on July 3rd to respond to our baptismal call to take part in our Church's missionary challenge...and to receive the full graces of the Eucharist offered for us by this missionary priest.

Please be generous in responding to our Lord's call to each one of us to take part in His mission to all people.

First Friday Adoration

First Friday Adoration begins at approximately 8:30 am, following the completion of the 8:00 am Mass and concludes with Benediction at 11:45 am. Our next First Friday Adoration will be held Friday, July 1st.

Corpus Christi 2022

Parishes around the archdiocese hosted Eucharistic processions including the Cathedral Basilica.

This year, the feast of Corpus Christi also marked the beginning of a three-year Eucharistic Revival in the Archdiocese of St. Louis and in dioceses across the United States. The revival will include opportunities to nurture the belief and devotion to the Real Presence of Jesus Christ in the Eucharist.

Men of the Cathedral

Adoration of the Blessed Sacrament

Men of the Cathedral invite all men and women of the parishioners and all visitors to join in the Adoration of the Blessed Sacrament on June 28th in the Cathedral. Adoration will begin sharply at 6 PM.

Monsignor Breier will be away on a much-deserved holiday and we will be blessed to have Fr. Joseph Jiang, the founder of the Men of the Cathedral, with us to officiate our evening of Adoration.

For those who have shared this amazing evening, please invite your friends and family. For those of you who have hesitated as you may not be a registered parishioner or you do not know others in the parish, this is your invitation to engage with our Lord and your fellow Catholics.

Our numbers are growing and there is plenty of room in the Cathedral, so let's fill all the kneelers to thank Him giving us eternal life as well as all of our personal causes.

After Adoration, all men are invited to move to Boland Hall for dinner and fellowship. Please RSVP to Michael Weisbrod at 314.918.2893 or michael.weisbrod@rcfstl.org by Monday, June 27th. The suggested offering for the evening is $ 20 per attendee payable at the dinner.

Weekly Thoughts on Giving

"For you were called to freedom, brothers and sisters. But do not use this freedom as an opportunity for the flesh; rather serve one another through love." (GALATIANS 5:13)

We like to celebrate that we are free to "live the good life." We can do what we want, anytime we want, with no regard for laws. But, Jesus calls us to a different kind of freedom. St. Paul reminds us that by imitating Jesus we are freed from becoming a slave to our own self-interests and desires, so that we can serve one another. We are free to share our gifts and promote God's work on earth to glorify His name and not honor ourselves.

ARCHDIOCESAN RESULTS

Based on the average October Sunday Mass count from 2015-2021, about 60% of Mass-going Catholics participated in the DMI Survey. This equates to 22% of all registered adult Catholics 18 years and older who participated in the survey.
