FROM OUR RECTOR

Dear Parishioners,

On June 24th the Supreme Court overturned Roe V. Wade. I would like to share the following from an article by Will Wright that appears on his blog: <https://catholic-link.org/roe-v-wade-overturned-now-the-hard-work-begins/>

“A Moral Imperative, Not a Political Cudgel”

Ending abortion as a practice is a moral imperative, not a political cudgel to be wielded. This fight is not primarily about policies; it is about objective and clear right and wrong. Abortion is the intentional killing an innocent human being. There is no gray area here. There are no special cases. There are no circumstances under which abortion, as the intentional and direct killing of a pre-born human person, is moral.

We must not be sucked in to the false notion that we are “forcing our beliefs” on anyone. Of course, I think it is providential that Roe v. Wade is overturned on the Solemnity of the Sacred Heart. Of course I believe that this is the will of God in our Lord Jesus Christ and by the intercession of our Blessed Mother. Of course it is. However, this fight has full force purely on the natural and scientific level. Being pro-life is being pro-science.

The Roe v. Wade decision would not venture to say when life begins. We know this fact of biology today with certitude: life beings at conception. From the first moment of fertilization of a human egg by a human sperm cell, a new human being has been made. This new person has distinct and unique DNA from the mother or the father. They are a unique, unrepeatable human person with inestimable worth. Simply growing bigger or developing or changing location from inside to outside the womb does not change the ontological nature of that specific human being.

Mother Teresa on “Roe v. Wade”

“America needs no words from me to see how your decision in Roe v. Wade has deformed a great nation. The so-called right to abortion has pitted mothers against their children and women against men. It has sown violence and discord at the heart of the most intimate human relationships.”

“Now is the time when the hard work begins. We must work to make sure that every woman has a real choice by opening and supporting crisis pregnancy centers, making an adoption a viable option, supporting domestic violence shelters, supporting social program and outreach to those who need assistance, providing solid postnatal care for women with minimal means.”

May we pray and work together with new fervor! Jesus and Our Blessed Mother are calling us to labor untiringly for a culture of life.

ARCHBISHOP'S COLUMN

The Christian conception of work and parenting is rooted in the pattern of self-gift

ARCHBISHOP
ROZANSKI

SERVE THE LORD
WITH GLADNESS

Let's fashion our lives on the model of Jesus, who said: 'This is my body, given for you'

Dear brothers and sisters in Christ,

We'll be reading from the prophet Jeremiah this week and all across the next three weeks.

One of the patterns of Jeremiah's prophetic message was a contrast between the basic elements of infidelity in Israel — both in worship and in morality — and a call to return to fidelity in every aspect of the nation's life.

One way to describe the central contrast between fidelity and infidelity in our own time is with these two phrases: 1) This is my body, given for you. 2) This is your body, taken for me.

"This is my body, given for you" is the central dynamic of the Christian life. It's rooted in the example of Jesus, both in the institution of the Eucharist and in the sacrifice of the cross. Every good marriage follows this pattern. Every fruitful priesthood is built on this pattern. A Christian conception of work and parenting is rooted in this pattern of self-gift.

"This is your body, taken for me" is the central dynamic of the lure of sin. Abortion is aptly described by this pattern. Slavery is aptly described by this pattern. Pornography and every form of lust is aptly described by this pattern.

In saying these things, I have no interest in being a "culture warrior." My interest is solely in being a shepherd of souls. And as a shepherd of souls I want to say this: There is a Christian pattern of living, it's possible to deviate from that pattern and the consequences of deviating from that pattern are serious — eternal, even.

As a shepherd of souls, I also want to encourage this: Let's use these two patterns to assess our daily words and deeds. All day, every day, we're pulled in the direction of these two patterns: "This is my body given for you" or "this is your body taken for me." All day, every day, every married couple is pulled in these two directions. All day, every day, every priest is pulled in these two directions. All day, every day, every one of us is pulled in these two directions as we carry out our daily work and relationships.

Because we live in a fallen world, "this is your body taken for me" is easier to choose — it requires less energy at the start. But this pattern is contrary to who God is, and contrary to who we are as creatures who bear God's image and likeness. That's why everything begins to fall apart when we follow this path.

Because of our fallen nature, "this is my body given for you" is harder to choose — it requires more energy at the start. But God revealed Himself in the Eucharist and on the Cross, and that's the God whose image we bear. Therefore this pattern is also more satisfying: If it requires more energy to choose, it also gives more energy back.

"They have forsaken me, the source of living waters; they have dug themselves cisterns, broken cisterns, that hold no water." This was God's lament, spoken through Jeremiah 2,600 years ago. When we make "this is my body, given for you" the pattern of our lives, we choose to live close to the source of living waters, and our life becomes a gift to others. When we make "this is your body, taken for me" the pattern of our lives, we fashion broken cisterns that hold no water, and form a culture of selfishness.

Let's learn from salvation history and from our own experience. Let's model our lives on the life of Jesus: "This is my body, given for you."

CATHEDRAL BASILICA PARISH RESULTS

Recently the Archdiocese of St. Louis published in the St. Louis Review the results of the Disciple Maker Index survey for the Archdiocese as a whole. Almost 71,000 surveys were submitted and the results may be viewed at <http://allthingsnew.archstl.org/dmi-results>.

In our parish 364 completed the survey which represents 27% of the average Sunday Mass attendees. The Parish Leadership Committee has been reviewed the results of the Archdiocese and the parish and presents the following summary of the strengths and opportunities for growth for our parish. On many measures, our parish and the results of the entire Archdiocese are in very close alignment.

STEWARDSHIP ALIVE!

Women of the Cathedral

Dear Cathedral Parish Ladies, We invite all of you to come grow in faith and fellowship together at the monthly gatherings of the Women of the Cathedral.

On Saturday, August 6, 2022 we will gather beginning with 8am Mass in the Cathedral, and then move to Boland Hall for a light breakfast hosted by two of our very generous and creative ladies. After brief introductions, an informative program will be led by Msgr. Mikesch, our spiritual director, with closing prayer at 10am.

Our July gathering was a joyful, heart-searching, and thoughtful sharing of faith in fellowship with many "who knew" connections made around the table. Among questions posed were: "When did we first encounter Jesus?" and "What is beauty?" For more information and to RSVP for the breakfast, please text or phone Barbara Murray at 314-974-6900 or email murraybj@swbell.net by 8/3/22.

Anima Christi Young Adults

All young adults interested in growing the fellowship of our young adult community are invited to the next young adult gathering scheduled for Thursday, July 21st with Adoration & confessions at 6:30pm, followed by dinner in Boland Hall at 7:30pm. Please email AnimaChristiStL@gmail.com for more info.

Men of the Cathedral

July Adoration

The Men of the Cathedral cordially invite all parishioners and visitors to join them with Adoration of the Holy Eucharist on Tuesday, July 26th at 6 PM. We will meet in the Nave of the Cathedral Basilica.

Please take this opportunity to join other men and women in personal prayer at Adoration to ask God to intercede and aid those who are experiencing personal difficulties and for our city, state, country, and world that good will prevail over evil and all will find their way to God.

Adoration will begin promptly at 6 PM. Confessions will be heard during Adoration.

All men are invited to drinks, dinner, and fellowship in Boland Hall immediately after the conclusion of Adoration. A suggested donation of $20 is appreciated.

Please consider making this prayerful evening a family event. Invite your family and friends to celebrate Christ through Adoration.

For dinner reservations, please contact Michael Weisbrod at 314.918.2893 or michael.weisbrod@rcfstl.org by Monday, July 25th.

Weekly Thoughts on Giving

"Ask and you will receive; seek and you will find; knock and the door will be opened to you."

LUKE 11:9

Jesus assures us that if we ask, God will take care of what we need. The problem is that our culture often confuses what we really need with what we simply want. The truth is that many of us need very little. However, we usually want so much more! Stewardship is simply being grateful for all that we are and all that we have been given, and generously sharing all of our God-given gifts with others. Generosity is a gift that opens doors to new relationships with others and with God.
