FROM OUR RECTOR

Dear Parishioners,

Don't forget about our All Souls Novena. You are invited to send us the names of the deceased loved ones you wish included in the Novena, and they will be remembered collectively in a Mass each day for nine days. In addition to our prayer, the name and image of your loved one will be displayed in our chapel, and you will receive a lovely Mass card with the name of your departed loved one inscribed inside. To enroll a loved one or for more information, please visit cathedralstl.org/all-souls.

This past Sunday was quite a Sunday at the Cathedral Basilica parish. At 12:30 am, I was awakened by a phone call from our alarm monitoring company that there was a trouble signal on our fire alarm. After opening the side door of the Cathedral, it was clear there was a problem with power. Following a phone call with Ameren, I learned that about 6 homes were without power; they were aware of the problem and had a crew working on the issue. However, when I woke up later in the morning, I quickly discovered that the power issue was not resolved.

It took a few phone calls with Ameren to convince them there was definitely a problem because everything appeared fine on their end, and Ameren stated that they completed the repair at 2:30 am. Unfortunately, after sending a line crew out it was determined that one of the lines coming into the building was damaged and had to be replaced. The damaged line caused one of the 3 phases to go down, which resulted in only a few lights functioning. Ameren devoted a significant amount of resources to resolve the problem, and I am so grateful to them for all their hard work.

Throughout this very challenging Sunday, I was impressed by how many parishioners and staff members worked together to ensure we could pull off a full Sunday schedule of Masses. This is one of those moments where I am so proud of my staff as many of them put in many extra hours and demonstrated to me their dedication to the mission of the Cathedral. A huge word of thanks to our Ushers who assisted all of our visitors and parishioners in a dark Cathedral. To our parishioners, thank you for your patience in this hopefully once-in-a-lifetime experience.

ARCHBISHOP'S COLUMN

The gift of an 'evangelical style of listening'

ARCHBISHOP
ROZANSKI

SERVE THE LORD
WITH GLADNESS

In listening, we need to hear where God is already active in a person's life, and where He wants to do more.

Dear brothers and sisters in Christ,

Well, we've started the All Things New parish listening sessions. We're also starting a series of readings from St. Paul's Letter to the Ephesians this week. It's providential timing. Ephesians is St. Paul's great letter about the Church, and it has a special focus on two things: the unity of the Church and the mission of the Church.

It makes me think of two things: listening, and lighthouses!

Listening

This moment — where we are in the All Things New process — calls for a deep kind of listening.

First, we need to engage in a deep listening to each other. We need to be able to listen not only to what people are saying, but to the heart that's speaking through their words. (As we all know, sometimes our words say exactly what's in our hearts, and sometimes our words represent our hearts very imperfectly!) We can only foster the unity that St. Paul talks about in Ephesians, and that we need in this moment, if we listen deeply to one another's hearts.

Second, we need to engage in an evangelical style of listening to the world. It's an intriguing phrase, isn't it — "an evangelical style of listening"? The new Program for Priestly Formation says that seminarians need to develop this to become good priests. What does it mean? I think it means two things: being able to hear where God is already at work in someone's life, and being able to hear where God is wanting more for a person's life. When we listen in such a way that we can hear both of those things, we're ready to proclaim the Good News as both a consolation and a challenge to people.

I think we could all use some growth in that kind of listening! We can only foster the kind of mission that St. Paul talks about in Ephesians, and that the Church needs in this moment, if we learn an evangelical style of listening to the world.

Lighthouses

As you know, I come from the East Coast. And East Coasters can tell you that the whole coast — from Florida to Maine — is dotted with historic and beautiful lighthouses.

I'm thinking of them this week because, in the Church's Office of Readings, St. Columban talks about asking Jesus to light our lanterns, and St. Maximus the Confessor says that Jesus Himself is the lamp set upon a lampstand for all to see

What does it mean when we say that one of the goals of All Things New is to have a Catholic presence in every square mile of the archdiocese? I think it might be helpful to think of our parishes the way we think of lighthouses. You don't need to have a lighthouse in every square mile, because a lighthouse can send its beam of light anywhere from 10-15 miles (depending on its height).

If we think of our parishes as lighthouses, and if we think of each one of us as carrying the light of Christ into our neighborhoods and workplaces, we get a different image of what it might mean to have a Catholic presence covering every square mile of the archdiocese.

These are important days for the unity and the mission of the Church in the Archdiocese of Saint Louis. Let's ask Jesus to give us the gift of listening, and the gift of light.

All Souls Novena At The Cathedral Basilica

As the seasons change and we anticipate the beginning of November, our thoughts turn to our deceased loved ones as we prepare for the liturgical feasts of All Saints and All Souls. We remember them in life and we pray that "perpetual light will shine upon them" and God will welcome them into eternal joy.

You are invited to remember deceased loved ones in prayer during the Cathedral Basilica's All Souls Novena, nine days of prayer for the departed, beginning on November 2nd. Please send us the names of the deceased loved ones you wish to be included in the Novena, and they will be remembered collectively in a Mass each day for nine days.

In addition to our prayer, the name and image of your loved one will be displayed in our chapel, and you will receive a Mass card with the name of your departed loved one inscribed inside.

Let us remember our departed loved ones by storming the gates of Heaven with prayers on their behalf, praying with confidence the words, "Eternal rest grant unto them, O Lord, and let perpetual light shine upon them."

Enrollment for the All Souls Remembrance is available for purchase on our website at <https://cathedralstl.org/all-souls>.

A Thought on The Sanctity Of Life

“An old Irish proverb says, ‘It is in the shelter of each other that the people live.’ Indeed, we are created to depend upon one another and walk together in suffering. But when family members or friends approach life's end, we may not know how best to ‘shelter’ them. Here are some concrete ways we can compassionately care for them: uscgb.org/end-of-life-care.”

The Gift That Has No Season

Over the years, it has been gifts left to the Cathedral Basilica in wills, Bequests, and memorials that have largely enabled us to continue to operate as a place of worship. As we approach year end and consider the upcoming tax season, please remember the Cathedral Basilica Parish in your will or charitable giving plans.

Daily Readings for the Week...

The readings are included each week so that the parishioners who are unable to join us for daily Mass will be able to consider and pray them in union with the whole Church.

Weekly Thoughts on Giving

"Has none but this foreigner returned to give thanks to God?" Luke 17:18

Most of us live relatively "easy" lives. We have food, shelter, clothing and money. We go on vacation every year and own a car or two. Most of us take this all for granted. Did you ever notice that people with the least amount of possessions are usually the most grateful? Shouldn't this be the other way around? Take time every day and thank God for all He has given you and discern how He is calling you to share your gifts.
