WELCOME TO OUR VISITORS

Archbishop Mitchell T. Rozanski and the people of the Archdiocese of St. Louis welcome you and hope that your time in our Mother Church may be an opportunity to share our faith and joy in Jesus Christ.

Please enjoy the beauty of this building dedicated to the glory of God and built for the inspiration of all who enter. Public tours of the Cathedral led by volunteer guides are available by appointment.

All visitors who are not of the Catholic faith are welcome to join us in prayer, but not to receive Holy Communion. Reception of Holy Communion is a sign of unity of faith and full membership in the Catholic community. Together let us pray for the eventual unity of all believers.

If you desire to become a member of the Catholic Church or to become a member of the Cathedral Basilica Parish, please complete a registration card, available at the entrances the church.

All contributions to the Cathedral Basilica parish, ministries, and maintenance are sincerely appreciated.

FROM OUR RECTOR

Dear Parishioners,

The beginning of our week was pretty busy here at the Cathedral Basilica as we celebrated the Feast of All Saints with a little over 140 relics of saints on display for prayer and adoration. Throughout the day, the All Saints chapel was at times full of people praying and a steady stream of people at other times. For myself, it was most moving to see the devotion of the faithful as they prayed before the relics.

On Wednesday, we welcomed priests of the Archdiocese for the annual Priests' Purgatorial Mass in which we remembered the men who left us this year. We hope that you have the opportunity to visit our All Souls Chapel to view the prayer area set up for our All Souls Novena. Our response to this program has been tremendous, and it is quite moving to read the prayer intentions and view the loved ones we remember in prayer.

In this week's Gospel, we hear of the Sadducees who do not believe in the resurrection; they are "realist" men who believe in the end but only in what they see and believe. These men read life with the eyes of the law, and they deny the resurrection; that is, they believe that death is the end of everything, and they believe that this can be easily demonstrated on the basis of the law and the rule of evidence.

Not believing in the resurrection means not believing in hope, living in the resignation that nothing can change: how often does this idea of impossibility also become our law? Refusing to change, resigning ourselves to the way we are, is a practical way of denying the resurrection. It denies that another life is possible.

Jesus responding to the Sadducees tells us the opposite: there is another possible world, and there is a different way of seeing life. The resurrection is the life that does not end, it is a window to eternity. Too often we accept that we are only children of this world, of its absurd laws that separate, distinguish, and exclude. Today Jesus is reminding us that we are children of the resurrection. As such, we are sent into the world to love one another as God has loved us.

"God is not God of the dead, but of the living; for to him all of them are alive." And to be alive to him means not to live for oneself. After all, when you live only for yourself, you are a bit like the dead. And God is the God of the living and not of the dead! So Jesus wants us to be interested in the life of every man and woman because he wants us to be like him, God of the living.

ARCHBISHOP'S COLUMN

Accepting the task to proclaim Christ to the world

ARCHBISHOP
ROZANSKI

SERVE THE LORD
WITH GLADNESS

St Martin's proclamation of determination can be a guide to us as we continue planning the future of the Church in St. Louis

Dear brothers and sisters in Christ,

"Non recuso laborem — I do not refuse the task."

We celebrate the feast of St. Martin of Tours this week (Nov. 11). In terms of his image, he's best known as the Roman soldier who cut his cloak in half to share it with a beggar. But in the tradition of the Church, he's just as well known for these words: Non recuso laborem.

Martin had turned from the life of a soldier to become a monk and then a bishop. Sensing that the end of his life was near, he began to prepare for death. His people begged him to steel his will to live longer and remain with them. Like St. Paul, he was ready to depart and be with the Lord. But he prayed: "Lord, if your people still need me, non recuso laborem — I do not refuse the task." Even near death, Martin didn't shy away from hard work.

These words have become the motto of many bishops and schools. I think we might fruitfully make them our own for the next phase of All Things New, as we draw near to the end of our listening sessions and start to make concrete plans for reconfiguring schools and parishes. I've had to find the courage and determination of St. Martin again and again within myself; I think each of us needs to do so in the coming months.

Another feast day this week can help us with an even more precise sense of what the task is that we must not refuse. When all's said and done, the deepest task of All Things New isn't the outward reconfiguration of schools and parishes — though that is a great task itself! The greater task is a new sense of what it means to be the Church. And that's precisely the focus of the feast of the Dedication of the Lateran Basilica, the pope's Cathedral (Nov. 9).

It may seem odd to celebrate the feast of the dedication of a building. But the reading from 1 Corinthians for the day makes the crucial point very clear: "You are God's building." And the Office of Readings for the day expands on the point: "We, however, ought to be the true and living temple of God ... Whenever we come to church, we must prepare our hearts to be as beautiful as we expect this church to be." The same point is reflected in St. Paul's advice to Titus about setting up the Church in Crete: All of his concern for building up the Church is focused on the interior characteristics of the people.

We expect our Church buildings to proclaim Christ to the world — and they should! It's time to make an interior shift, and expect ourselves to proclaim Christ to the world, too.

Consider how long it took to build some of the great church buildings of the Archdiocese of St. Louis. Our ancestors faced that daunting task, and their answer was: Non recuso laborem — I do not refuse the task.

Now we face a monumental task, too: both the external reconfiguring of schools and parishes, and the internal reconfiguring of how we bring the Good News out to the world. I hope we can find the courage and determination of St. Martin as we face our task. I hope that each of us will find it in our hearts to say, over and over in these coming months: Non recuso laborem — I do not refuse the task.

Men of the Cathedral

Adoration and Dinner

We are quickly approaching the end of the Church year with Advent and Christmas coming very soon. This is the perfect time for all parishioners and guests, both men and women, to join the Men of the Cathedral for monthly Adoration. Our regular attendees as well as our first time participants find the evening to be so fulfilling. They look forward to the next month and often bring a friend or family member.

We will meet in the Blessed Sacrament Chapel on Tuesday, November 29, 2022. Adoration begins at 6 PM.

Confession will be available during Adoration.

After Adoration, all men are invited to Boland Hall for dinner. This is a terrific way to reflect on your year, thank God for all the blessings He has bestowed upon you and to enjoy the friendship and fellowship of other Catholic men seeking religious fulfillment.

Please RSVP to Michael Weisbrod at michael.weisbrod@rcfstl.org or 314.918.2893 by Monday, November 28th. The cost is $20 per person at the door and includes dinner and beverages.

Women of the Cathedral

Women of the Cathedral– December 3, 2022

Dear Ladies of the Cathedral Parish,

Come grow in faith and fellowship together with other ladies in the parish at the monthly gatherings of the Women of the Cathedral.

We will gather next on Saturday, December 3, 2022. We begin with 8am Mass in the Cathedral, and then move to Boland Hall for a light breakfast. After brief introductions and social time, an informative program is led by Msgr. Mikesch, our spiritual director, with closing prayer at 10am. A popular highlight is “Ask Msgr. Mikesch Time.”

At our last gathering the ladies shared with each other a male and female they feel close to and pray to, this being part of a living tradition linking many faithful men and women who have gone before us.

To learn more and RSVP for breakfast, contact Barbara Murray at 314-974-6900 or email murraybj@swbell.net by November 30, 2022. Please send your questions for “Ask Msgr. Time” when you RSVP.

A Thought on The Sanctity Of Life

“Death is a decisive moment in the human person’s encounter with God the Savior. Helping the Christian to experience this moment with spiritual assistance is a supreme act of charity. It encompasses the patient with the solid support of human relationships to accompany them and open them to hope. Palliative care and hospice are precious and crucial instruments in the care of patients with serious and complex chronic or terminal illnesses, and they help provide comfort to both the patients and their families.”

STEWARDSHIP ALIVE!

Why A Registered Parishioner

Due to the number of requests for baptisms and weddings, the Cathedral Parish adopted a policy years ago that generally requires parents to be registered parishioners of the parish before their infant may be baptized here, or for an engaged person to be a registered parishioner and practicing Catholic for a minimum of one year for preferred dates and for a more modest stipend. Non-parishioners must be registered in a Catholic parish somewhere and will need to secure their pastor's permission to be baptized or married outside of their proper parish before we can schedule any ceremony. If you attend Mass at the Cathedral regularly but have not yet registered, register online at <https://cathedralstl.org/about-basilica/parish-life> or call the parish office for more info!

Eyeglass Drive

"The Respectacle Project," an eyeglass recycling program, facilitates the redistribution of quality used eyeglasses to those in need both locally and abroad. Donations are typically accepted on the first Sunday of every month. Our next eyeglass drive will be held today, Sunday, November 6th.

A Lasting Gift

Looking for a special gift to memorialize a loved one, or celebrate a birth or wedding? Consider a commemorative brick in the Cathedral Basilica Jubilee Prayer Garden! Contact the parish office at 314-373-8202 for more information.

Weekly Thoughts on Giving

"May our Lord Jesus Christ himself and God our Father, who has loved us and given us everlasting encouragement and good hope through his grace, encourage your hearts and strengthen them in every good deed and word." 2 Thessalonians 2:16-17

There are two important lessons here. First, we are called to be generous with our encouragement and hope with others. As God shows us mercy, we must be merciful to others. Second, joy is contagious! The joy we receive from doing good works not only strengthens us, it encourages others as well. Share the joy of living your faith whenever you can.
