FROM OUR RECTOR

Dear Parishioners,

This third Sunday of Lent is characterized by Jesus' famous conversation with the Samaritan woman, recounted by the Evangelist John. The woman went every day to draw water from an ancient well that dated back to the Patriarch Jacob, and on that day, she found Jesus sitting beside the well, "wearied from his journey." Jesus' weariness, a sign of his true humanity, can be seen as a prelude to the Passion, with which he brought to fulfillment the work of our redemption.

In the encounter with the Samaritan woman at the well, the topic of Christ's "thirst" stands out in particular. It culminated in his cry on the Cross, "I thirst" (Jn 19:28). This thirst, like his weariness, had a physical basis. Yet Jesus, as St Augustine says, "thirsted for the faith of that woman", as he thirsted for the faith of us all.

This very scene repeats every day. When we get close to the well of the Word of God, we find Jesus waiting there for us and he asks us, "Give me to drink." Jesus wants our heart, our love, and our affection. This is what he is thirsty for: friendship. And we, too, like that woman, may reject this request for love and company. It is striking that Jesus loved that woman when she was still far from him, but she did not realize it.

Jesus helped her to come to her senses: he did not attack or humiliate her with an embarrassing description of her sin or her history with so many sought and betrayed loves. Instead, he understood her. This really surprised the woman: being understood, known for what she was, and being loved still! It is not a law or a judgment that changes hearts, but the long and persistent encounter with that man who spoke to her with freedom and love.

Each one of us can identify himself with the Samaritan woman: Jesus is waiting for us, especially in this Season of Lent, to speak to our hearts, to my heart. Let us pause in silence in our room, a church, or a separate place. Let us listen to his voice which tells us "'I am he, the one speaking with you.'...". May the Virgin Mary help us not to miss this appointment, on which our true happiness depends.

ARCHBISHOP'S COLUMN

Faithfulness to God's law is a powerful witness

As we hear about in the readings this week, fidelity to God's law is an opportunity for evangelization

Dear brothers and sisters in Christ,

The readings this week point very clearly to a link between faithfulness to God's law and evangelization — the proclamation of Good News to others.

For example, we hear how Naaman the Syrian — an outsider to Israel — came to the prophet Elisha to be cured of leprosy. Elisha asked Naaman for a very simple act: that he wash in the Jordan River seven times. Naaman almost stormed away in protest. "What could possibly be special about this river and this land? Aren't the rivers in my home country cleaner and better?"

On a human level, his objection was perfectly reasonable. There seemed no good reason why this land, and this river, should be any better than any other. But when he was cured, he realized that there's something special about this place! God dwells here, in this land, in a way that He doesn't dwell anywhere else. That brought Naaman to worship the one true God.

Naaman's objection sounds a lot like a common objection we hear today: "Why should I pray in a church? Can't I pray anywhere else just as well? What's so special about this building?" Our answer can echo the answer Elisha gave to Naaman: There's something different about this place. Try it out, and see for yourself. But to make that invitation credible, we have to be faithful to it first!

This week we also hear Azariah's prayer in the furnace. (The Israelites named Hananiah, Mishael and Azariah are better known by their Babylonian names: Shadrach, Meshach and Abednego.) After his prayer, God sent an angel to protect the three from the flames of the furnace. As a result, the Babylonian king — an outsider — declared: "There is no other God who can rescue like this!" The unwavering fidelity of Hananiah, Mishael and Azariah became an opportunity to give witness to the truth about God to an outsider.

Along similar lines, we hear Moses tell the Israelites: If you are faithful to God's law, you will give evidence to other nations of who and how good God is. This is the same thing we hear about the work of college missionaries. People see the intentional and joyful way they live and ask: "How do I get some of that?" The answer is: Follow Jesus, and you can share that joy.

SERVE THE LORD

All of this converges on a question for us: Do we take fidelity to God's law, as articulated in the teachings of the Church, as an opportunity for evangelization? Or do we compromise Church teaching because we're afraid of how people will react?

If we're honest with ourselves, we have to admit that we suffer from two prominent kinds of failure. Sometimes we actively promote the social teachings of the Church, while disowning the doctrinal teachings of the Church. Other times we actively promote the doctrinal teachings of the Church, while disowning the social teachings of the Church. Both are failures of fidelity. Both also miss the opportunity for evangelization. And the result of a lack of evangelization is always the same: a lack of growth.

Here's a good mantra: When we have both, it leads to growth.

It wasn't easy for the Israelites to be faithful to all of God's law. But when they were, it gave powerful witness to the nations. The same is true for us. It isn't easy to be faithful to all of the Church's teachings. But when we are, it gives a powerful witness — and a powerful invitation — to the world.

Women of the Cathedral

Women of the Cathedral– April 1, 2023

Dear Ladies of the Cathedral Parish,

Come grow in faith and fellowship with other ladies in the parish at the monthly gatherings of the Women of the Cathedral. We gather in the name of Jesus and He promises us the gift of the Holy Spirit.

At our last gathering the ladies shared their awareness of the Holy Spirit in people of other faith traditions who they encountered in their lives. It is the role of the Holy Spirit to unite people in the Divine Presence. It is the desire of God the Father to unite all people in His Son Jesus through the power of the Holy Spirit.

Our next is on Sunday, April 1, 2023. We will begin with 8 AM Mass in the Cathedral, and then go to Boland Hall for a light breakfast. After brief introductions and social time, an informative program is led by Msgr. Mikesch, our spiritual director, with closing prayer at 10 AM. An ongoing highlight is “Ask Msgr. Mikesch Time.”

To learn more and RSVP for breakfast, contact Barbara Murray at 314-974-6900 or email murraybj@swbell.net by March 29, 2023. Please send your questions for “Ask Msgr. Time” when you RSVP.

A Lenten Retreat with Sacred Art
Week 3: St. Francis of Assisi
 (Located in the All Saint Chapel)

The painting featured this week is another work of Cathedral Basilica parishioner George Capps and his sister Polly, who together are the founders of Goretti Fine Art, LLC. We find depicted here St. Francis of Assisi surrounded by a group of large mammals. The artists say the following about this piece:

[This] depiction offers a fresh and arresting take on the familiar motif of Francis preaching to the animals, retaining a monumental dignity where so many previous portrayals of the subject have descended into shallow sentimentality. The saint's profound sense of interconnectedness with the natural world is powerfully evoked, but so is its often-overlooked source in his detachment from material goods. His gaze rests not on the imposing wildlife but on the austere sticks of wood in his hand, reminding the viewer that all these seemingly contradictory aspects of his spirituality – from the warmth of his fraternal affections to the intensity of his asceticism – find their meaning in the Cross.

The story of St. Francis – like many of the saints, perhaps – is one that is so familiar to many of us that we might be tempted to treat it as nothing more than a nice bedtime story or fairy tale; to treat it with the shallow sentimentality that the artists refer to. The challenge is to take a step back and remind ourselves that these are real stories about real people just like you and I, who, by the grace of God, were enabled to live lives of profound holiness and heroic virtue.

St. Francis of Assisi was not just a nice man who liked animals. He was a saint who lived in profound harmony with the natural world precisely because his attention was so regularly fixed on the One who is its Author. He was a saint who, through maintaining a right relationship with the Creator, was able to navigate creation in such a way as to enjoy a special connection with the goods of the created world while at the same time resisting the temptation to make illicit use of them for ends that were selfish, wasteful, or immoral.

In a powerful way, the life of St. Francis of Assisi exemplifies what it means for us to live the Gospel call to be “in the world, but not of the world.” We notice in this depiction the way that St. Francis’ gaze is not fixed on any of the worldly things or creatures that surround him, but that it is rather riveted to the Cross. In the same way, especially during this Lenten season, this is meant to be where our gaze continually returns. We are invited to turn away from the things of creation – even some of those which are perfectly legitimate and good – in order to more frequently and intentionally turn toward the Creator. Just as St. Francis contemplates the Cross in this depiction, so are we meant to look upon the Cross during this season: both the Cross which Jesus bore for us as well as the crosses which we ourselves carry in the midst of our striving to be His disciples. So often the temptation is to avoid the Cross, to run away from the Cross, to wrestle ourselves free of it as quickly as possible. In a particular way during Lent, our Lord invites us to rest there for a while. We are invited not to ignore the Cross, but to talk to Him about it; not to cast the Cross away, but to ask Him to show us how to carry it; not to fear the Cross, but to ask for the faith and hope by which to recognize it as the instrument of our salvation.

Whatever form the Cross may be taking for you at this time in your life, consider making time to bring it intentionally to the center of your prayer, just as we find St. Francis doing here, so that in taking up our Cross and following Jesus we may follow Him ultimately to the joy of Resurrection.

Easter Memorial Flowers

The beautiful Easter lilies and spring flowers that adorn our church are a special part of the celebration of Easter at the Cathedral Basilica of St. Louis. We invite parishioners to share in the experience through a memorial or thanksgiving gift - to remember loved ones, honor friends, and offer thanksgiving to God for prayers answered and blessings received. The suggested donation is $10.00 per remembrance. The names of all those being remembered will be printed in the parish bulletin on Easter Sunday and the week following Easter.

Please indicate in whose memory, or in whose honor, you wish the flowers to be dedicated. Completed forms and payment may be placed in an envelope and dropped into the weekend offertory baskets, OR mailed to: Cathedral Basilica of St. Louis, c/o Memorial Lilies, 4431 Lindell Blvd, Saint Louis, MO, 63108.

A Thought on The Sanctity Of Life

“We are facing an enormous and dramatic clash between good and evil, death and life, the ‘culture of death’ and the ‘culture of life’. We find ourselves not only ‘faced with’ but necessarily ‘in the midst of’ this conflict: we are all involved and we all share in it, with the inescapable responsibility of choosing to be unconditionally pro-life”

(The Gospel of Life 28).

Weekly Thoughts on Giving

"Everyone who drinks this water will be thirsty again. "John 4:13

Jesus reminds us that material things, even something as basic as water, can never satisfy us over the long run. When we build our lives around material possessions we will always want more and no amount will ever satisfy our desire. True joy and peace only comes when we follow Jesus - when we become more "God-centered" and less "self-centered."
