WELCOME TO OUR VISITORS

Archbishop Mitchell T. Rozanski and the people of the Archdiocese of St. Louis welcome you and hope that your time in our Mother Church may be an opportunity to share our faith and joy in Jesus Christ.

Please enjoy the beauty of this building dedicated to the glory of God and built for the inspiration of all who enter. Public tours of the Cathedral led by volunteer guides are available most weekdays, call for availability.

All visitors who are not of the Catholic faith are welcome to join us in prayer, but not to receive Holy Communion. Reception of Holy Communion is a sign of unity of faith and full membership in the Catholic community. Together let us pray for the eventual unity of all believers.

If you desire to become a member of the Catholic Church or to become a member of the Cathedral Basilica Parish, please complete a registration card, available at the entrances the church.

All contributions to the Cathedral Basilica parish, ministries, and maintenance are sincerely appreciated.

FROM OUR RECTOR

Dear Parishioners,

During my time as a college Seminarian, we would attend classes at St. Louis University and on the Feast of Saint Thomas Aquinas, there would be a group of students in the College of Philosophy and Letters who would spend the feast day reading aloud the Summa Theologica. The Summa is the best known work of St. Thomas and is a compendium of all the main theological teachings of the Catholic Church. It was intended to be an instructional guide for theology students.

With his charism as a philosopher and theologian, he offered an effective model of harmony between faith and reason, dimensions of the human spirit that are completely fulfilled in the encounter and dialogue with one another.

According to St Thomas' thought, human reason, as it were, "breathes": it moves within a vast open horizon in which it can express the best of itself. When, instead, man reduces himself to thinking only of material objects or those that can be proven, he closes himself to the great questions about life, himself, and God and is thereby impoverished. The relationship between faith and reason is a serious challenge to the culture we find ourselves in today. Saint John Paul II wrote an Encyclical entitled Fides et Ratio - "Faith and Reason" - to address this topic.

I raise this topic because the state of our world seems to indicate we have left faith and reason behind. Instead of seeing "faith and reason as two wings on which the human spirit rises to the contemplation of truth" (Fides et Ratio), many have turned to the self as the center of truth, and see reason as being separate from faith. It is necessary to admit that the tendency to consider "true" only that which can be experienced constitutes a limitation of human reason, and that this tendency has led to the coexistence of rationalism and materialism, hyper-technology and unbridled instinct.

Faith presupposes reason and perfects it, and reason, enlightened by faith, finds the strength to rise to the knowledge of God and spiritual realities. Human reason loses nothing by opening itself to the content of faith, which, indeed, requires its free and conscious adherence.

Saint Thomas Aquinas, pray for us.

ARCHBISHOP'S COLUMN

We delight in being recognized and known

This delight can also be one small way that we can shape how we approach the Eucharist and parish life

Dear brothers and sisters in Christ,

Two weeks ago we held the SEEK24 conference in downtown St. Louis. Almost 20,000 people — mostly young adults — came to grow in both following and proclaiming Christ. It was an extraordinary experience of the vibrancy of the young Church.

As we start to think and pray and talk more deeply about parish vibrancy in the Archdiocese of St. Louis, I'd like to recall something that happened repeatedly as the conference unfolded.

Any time one of the main stage speakers would mention a particular school the students from that school would cheer wildly. They were delighted to be recognized and known.

What happened on a group level also played out over and over on an individual level. One person would recognize another and call out. You could see the joy it brought that individual to be recognized and known.

Perhaps it's a law of human nature: We delight in being recognized and known. That law was on full display at SEEK24, and I wonder if it might help with parish vibrancy in two ways.

First: Do we approach Jesus in the Eucharist this way? My point is not that we come forward to recognize Jesus, though that's also true and essential. My point is: Do we approach Him with the intention of letting Him recognize and know us — do we approach and receive the Eucharist with that kind of delight? "Jesus looked at me — He recognized me, He knows me, He gave Himself to me!" Do we cheer, at least internally, when this happens?

As we prepare for the National Eucharistic Congress this summer in Indianapolis and focus on the revival of our own eucharistic devotion, perhaps we could learn something from the experience of SEEK24.

ARCHBISHOP MITCHELL ROZANSKI

SERVE THE LORD
WITH GLADNESS

Here's a second element of how that delight pertains to parish vibrancy: Do we provide that same experience for others when they enter the parish? Do we look at them with recognition and delight and let them be delighted at being recognized? (Or, if we don't recognize them, are we at least genuinely delighted to meet them?) That small experience could transform people's experience of parish life.

Friends, we live in a tired world. Spirituality without religion, the (empty) promise of salvation by technology and conversations made shallow by relativism make it tired. We have an opportunity to bring a tremendous source of energy to a tired world: the delight of being recognized, known and loved by Jesus.

What if we asked ourselves, at the end of every day: What opportunities did I have today to let someone know that Jesus recognizes and delights in them? How did I do with those opportunities?

If we ask those questions every day, we might begin to make quicker and deeper responses to the opportunities that present themselves.

Does that seem small? Maybe. But Jesus tells the parable of the mustard seed this week: Though "it is the smallest of seeds, it becomes the largest of plants." This experience of recognition and delight is a small seed we could begin to plant more deliberately and more abundantly in our daily interactions. It could make a large contribution to parish vibrancy.

Les Miracles de Notre Dame

Medieval Paris was not only a center of learning, debate, art, and architecture: it was also a capital of musical creation and innovation, the most important in Europe. You will hear the magnificent vocal music sung within the walls of the great cathedral, as well as miracle tales, student songs, and minstrel turns performed in Notre Dame's shadow, on either bank of the steadily flowing Seine. A feast!

A commission of the French Consulate in Boston and premiered a few months after the 2019 fire which destroyed in part the Notre Dame cathedral, it was again performed in 2022, to public and critical acclaim.

Open House for St. Roch Elementary School

You are invited to the St. Roch School Open House (<http://gostroch.com>) on Sunday, January 28, 2024, from 12 noon until 2:00 pm. St. Roch is a vibrant, urban and diverse school that offers an academically challenging education for children in pre-school through eighth grade.

See for yourselves what St. Roch has to offer you and your children.

- Strong Academic Preparedness: Graduating eighth grade students excel in public, private, and magnet High Schools (and beyond). Students are challenged with above grade level coursework that is taught through a range of traditional and non-traditional approaches.
- Diverse Student Body: St. Roch benefits from a diverse, dynamic and dedicated student body. Our students come from more than 30 different zip codes throughout the St. Louis metropolitan area and 45% of our population in Non Catholic.
- Engaged Community: St. Roch is about more than just test scores and academics. We strive to develop the whole person. We offer a caring learning environment with a strong community that promotes service, personal accountability and awareness beyond oneself.

Listen to what one family has to say about St. Roch. “St. Roch is unlike any other Catholic School in the diocese. Its academic reputation precedes it, and in the six years we have had children there, we have been most pleased with the academics. The community of parents and students at St. Roch is beautifully diverse, and this sets it apart from all other schools in the diocese.”

What is in a name?

Last Sunday’s story is from the Gospel of John, we don’t know the exact sequence of that text with this one from Mark, but the theme is the same. We continue the story from last Sunday, that is, the beginning of Jesus’ ministry as he calls his first disciples. In today’s story he calls four fishermen at the Sea of Galilee — Simon Peter, Andrew, James and John.

Once again we don’t know what there was about Jesus that led Simon, Andrew, James, John, and others to leave their homes and families to follow Jesus. Did they know him already? Or was this their first contact with him? In any case there was something remarkably compelling about Jesus to cause these and others to follow him into an uncertain future. The astonishing feature of the story is that they followed Jesus with no idea of where it would lead.

We know very little of the background of any of the disciples whom Jesus calls. The four in today’s story were fishermen. Matthew was a tax collector (Matthew 9:9). What had the other seven done before Jesus came into their lives? We don’t know.

As far as we can tell, the twelve persons Jesus called to be his companions were ordinary men. As far as we can tell, He picked people probably much like you and me. Furthermore, his disciples were anything but perfect. Many times they misunderstood him. They often hesitated to follow him. Judas betrayed him and Peter denied him. But these would be the persons who would continue Jesus’ work on earth after he left — ordinary people, like you and me. They were called.

Found in the Mosaics

Saint Louis is known as the Gateway to the West because of exploration and settlement of the West originated here. It was also a gateway to the evangelization of the Native Americans of the West and later of the settlers who displaced the Native Americans. In this mosaic Father Jacques Marquette, SJ is shown in a canoe preaching. He preached to the Illinois Native Americans. He traveled the Wisconsin River south to its point of confluence with the Mississippi and then explored Saint Louis and beyond. He had learned the language of the Illinois Native Americans while evangelizing there.

This mosaic is on the west wall of the south dome, the Local History Dome.

Women of the Cathedral

The Women of the Cathedral (WOC) meet monthly and invite the ladies of the parish to join them. Nursing babies are always welcome. Coming this month is a Bible study to enrich and grow our faith, and a service project to feed the homeless. For more information on these upcoming activities or to be added to the email list, please contact Sarah Schimpf at sarah.schimpf@icloud.com

Men of the Cathedral

Adoration of the Blessed Sacrament is a joy beyond words, as we can come close to our Lord in a very special and personal way. That joy and fulfillment is greatly enhanced when you share the experience of Adoration with others.

Begin your 2024 spiritual life by joining Men of the Cathedral for the January Adoration scheduled for January 30th at 6 PM. All (men, women, parishioners and visitors) are welcome for Adoration! Invite your friends and family. Several MOC include their sons (or fathers) and find it to be a great way to come closer to one-another and to Christ!

Confessions will be heard during Adoration.

Following Adoration, all men are invited to Boland Hall for fellowship and dinners. An offering of $20 is suggested. Please RSVP by Monday, January 29th to Michael Weisbrod at michael.weisbrod@rcfstl.org to reserve your dinner spot!

Weekly Thoughts on Giving

"Follow me and I will make you fishers of men." - Mark 1:17

Jesus' call to "follow me" is a call to all Christians! The call is in the here and now, in our present circumstances, not when we think we are "ready" or have everything in order. Good stewardship of our God-given gifts means that things aren't always going to go according to our schedule, but that God has a much better plan in store for each of us.

What Catholics Believe

Join us at the Cathedral Basilica two Wednesdays a month, when Fr. Povis will present an in-depth theological reflection on the articles of the Apostles' Creed.

-6:30pm in Boland Hall

-50 minute presentation followed by social

-Feel free to bring food and drink

-Designed for adults, but all are welcome!

Anima Christi Young Adults

Anyone between the ages of 18 and 39 is invited to join in prayer and fellowship with the young adult community of the Cathedral Basilica on Thursday, January 25th. Our gathering begins with Holy Hour at 6:30pm (enter through the west door, by the playground). Afterward there will be dinner in Boland Hall. Please join us, in full or in part, to deepen your relationship with Christ and with one another.

Welcome New Parishioners

A very special welcome to our new parishioners! We have been blessed with many families joining the Cathedral Basilica parish this month. The Cathedral clergy, rectory staff, and your fellow parishioners joyfully welcome you and pray for you and your families.

If you are interested in ways that you can become involved at the Cathedral, please contact Andrew at 314-373-8202.

Catholic Charities

Catholic Charities of St. Louis brings the healing, help, and hope of Jesus Christ to those in need with a compassionate and caring presence.

Cardinal Ritter Senior Services (CRSS) is a ministry of Catholic Charities that provides compassionate care for senior adults through quality residential communities which include independent and assisted living, skilled nursing, and memory care. CRSS also provides seniors in need who are aging at home access to extensive support services, information, and referrals.

Foster Grandparents is a volunteer program that offers seniors the ability to serve as role models, mentors, and friends to children with special and exceptional needs. This program was established to provide a loving relationship a child needs to achieve a successful future.

To learn more or to volunteer, please contact your Parish Ambassador Alisa Goessling at 314-256-5904.

A Thought on The Sanctity Of Life

“There is such a wide spectrum of issues involving the protection of human life and the promotion of human dignity. Good people frequently disagree on which problems to address, which policies to adopt and how best to apply them. But for citizens and elected officials alike, the basic principle is simple: We must begin with a commitment never to intentionally kill, or collude in the killing, of any innocent human life, no matter how broken, unformed, disabled or desperate that life may seem. In other words, the choice of certain ways of acting is always and radically incompatible with the love of God and the dignity of the human person created in His image.”
