WELCOME TO OUR VISITORS

Archbishop Mitchell T. Rozanski and the people of the Archdiocese of St. Louis welcome you and hope that your time in our Mother Church may be an opportunity to share our faith and joy in Jesus Christ.

Please enjoy the beauty of this building dedicated to the glory of God and built for the inspiration of all who enter. Public tours of the Cathedral led by volunteer guides are available most weekdays, call for availability.

All visitors who are not of the Catholic faith are welcome to join us in prayer, but not to receive Holy Communion. Reception of Holy Communion is a sign of unity of faith and full membership in the Catholic community. Together let us pray for the eventual unity of all believers.

If you desire to become a member of the Catholic Church or to become a member of the Cathedral Basilica Parish, please complete a registration card, available at the entrances the church.

All contributions to the Cathedral Basilica parish, ministries, and maintenance are sincerely appreciated.

FROM OUR RECTOR

Dear Parishioners,

This past weekend, we welcomed First Responders to the Cathedral Basilica for the Annual Blue Mass. The first "Blue Mass" was celebrated in Washington, DC, a little over 84 years ago. It was an excellent opportunity to come together, share our faith in the Lord, and ask the Lord for guidance and strength as these men and women fulfill their daily duties, which often place them in harm's way.

The parish also hosted its first "Sunday Supper," which was a great opportunity for parishioners to gather, share a meal, and build community. Many thanks to David and Nancy Butler for organizing the evening. You will find some photos from the dinner in this week's bulletin. Also, please check the bulletin in the coming weeks for the date of October's Sunday Supper. I hope you can attend.

Together, the Archdiocese of St. Louis' Immigration Task Force and Saint Louis University will host this year's Solidarity Walk and Mass on World Day for Migrants and Refugees. Join people throughout the Archdiocese on Sunday, September 29, beginning at 1:00 PM at the SLU Clock Tower (220 N Spring Ave), where the walk to the Cathedral Basilica of St. Louis will begin. Bishop Rivotuso will celebrate Mass at 2:30 PM. All are welcome!

If any wish to come after me, let them deny themselves and take up their cross and follow me. (Mark 8:34)

Jesus' way has also to be our way. So much of the time we try to straddle the fences: be 'good' Catholics and have the good things that everyone else wants as well. We don't want crosses. We even think that one of the purposes of prayer is to ask Jesus to take away the nasty things and make life smooth all the way.

But Jesus is urging us to let go. To 'save our life', we cannot cling to 'things' and want security in them. We need to learn that our happiness is not in having or grabbing but in sharing what we have. It is in giving, not in getting. It is in letting go and letting God, as they say.

ARCHBISHOP'S COLUMN

What Deeds of Faith are We Called to Perform?

The question is just one that is posed to us by the Scripture readings this week.

Dear brothers and sisters in Christ,

We hear about some amazing deeds of faith this week.

We hear about the centurion who wanted Jesus to heal his slave, but sent word: "Lord, I am not worthy that you should enter under my roof." Jesus responds: "Not even in Israel have I found such faith."

We hear about the woman who anointed Jesus' feet. Jesus says to her: "Your faith has saved you; go in peace."

We celebrate the feast of St. Andrew Kim Taegon, along with his companions, this week (Sept. 20). St. Andrew Kim was born to a noble Korean family that converted. He pursued studies and was ordained outside of Korea. Then he returned to his homeland, where he was martyred at the age of 25. The very fact that he returned, knowing what it would mean, was an amazing act of faith.

This raises the question: What deeds of faith am I called to this week?

We also hear about charisms this week.

In 1 Corinthians 12, St. Paul talks about the parts of the body and how each makes its own contribution to the body. In Luke 8 we hear about the women who provided resources for Jesus' ministry. In Ephesians 4 St. Paul talks about gifts that are given for the sake of the body of Christ.

Charisms are gifts that are given, not for the sake of our sanctification, but for the sake of building up others. We might think of a charism not simply as our own personal strength, but as a special way we bring

ARCHBISHOP MITCHELL
ROZANSKI

SERVE THE LORD WITH GLADNESS

out the best in others.

That raises the question: What are the charisms of people in our parishes, and how are we drawing them out for each parish's witness to the Gospel?

Finally, we celebrate the feast of St. Matthew the Apostle and Evangelist this week (Sept 21). Pope Francis gets his papal motto from a famous commentary on the call of St. Matthew. In the commentary, St. Bede notes that Jesus called Matthew "because He saw him through the eyes of mercy and chose him" (miserando atque eligendo).

That kind of seeing, that kind of mercy, that kind of choosing was unexpected and it was undeserved. It was, nevertheless, real.

The consoling thing is that the same kind of seeing, mercy and choosing is offered to each of us by Jesus! And the same adjectives apply to how it comes to us: unexpected, underserved, but still real.

The challenging thing, though, is that we're called to offer to others the same look, the same mercy, and the same choosing that we have received. This is one of the beautiful points of continuity between Pope Benedict XVI and Pope Francis. What Pope Francis chose for his motto reflects what Pope Benedict said in his very first encyclical: "Seeing with the eyes of Christ, I can give others much more than their outward necessities. I can give them the look of love which they crave." (Deus Caritas Est, #18)

RCIA

Have you ever thought about becoming a Catholic?

Do you know someone who might be interested in becoming Catholic?

Are you interested in finding out more about the Catholic Church?

Is your spouse, fiancé, neighbor, or friend interested?

The Rite of Christian Initiation of Adults (or RCIA) enables those who are interested in the Catholic faith to “find out what it is all about”. Most often, people come because they are invited.

Be the voice of Christ and offer the first invitation to someone you know who might be interested in the Catholic faith!

RCIA is for persons who have never been baptized, were baptized in another Christian tradition, or were baptized Catholic but have never celebrated Confirmation or received First Communion. It is also open to anyone who is interested in learning more about what Catholics believe and why we believe it. You are invited if you've been Catholic all your life, if you have a passing interest in the Catholic faith, or if you are anywhere in between!

The 2024-25 RCIA session will begin September 8.

To register or for additional information, please contact
Fr. Zac Povis at 314.373.8204 or zacharypovis@archstl.org

Weekly Thoughts on Giving

“Whoever wishes to come after me must deny himself, take up his cross, and follow me.” MARK 8:34

Living a stewardship lifestyle means not only being responsible for my own life, but for the lives of others as well. We realize that our gifts are not intended for ourselves, rather they are meant to be shared with others. “Taking up my cross” means doing things when someone else needs me and not when it’s convenient for me.
