WELCOME TO OUR VISITORS

Archbishop Mitchell T. Rozanski and the people of the Archdiocese of St. Louis welcome you and hope that your time in our Mother Church may be an opportunity to share our faith and joy in Jesus Christ.

Please enjoy the beauty of this building dedicated to the glory of God and built for the inspiration of all who enter. Public tours of the Cathedral led by volunteer guides are available most weekdays, call for availability.

All visitors who are not of the Catholic faith are welcome to join us in prayer, but not to receive Holy Communion. Reception of Holy Communion is a sign of unity of faith and full membership in the Catholic community. Together let us pray for the eventual unity of all believers.

If you desire to become a member of the Catholic Church or to become a member of the Cathedral Basilica Parish, please complete a registration card, available at the entrances the church.

All contributions to the Cathedral Basilica parish, ministries, and maintenance are sincerely appreciated.

FROM OUR RECTOR

Dear Parishioners,

The beginning of our week was pretty busy here at the Cathedral Basilica as we celebrated the Feast of All Saints with a little over 140 relics of saints on display for prayer and adoration. Throughout the day, the All Saints Chapel was at times full of people praying and a steady stream of people at other times. For myself, it was most moving to see the devotion of the faithful as they prayed before the relics.

I hope that you have the opportunity to visit our All Souls Chapel to view the prayer area set up for our All Souls Novena. Our response to this program has been tremendous, and it is quite moving to read the prayer intentions and view the loved ones we remember in prayer.

In this week's Gospel, we are at the end of Jesus' journey to Jerusalem, and the contrast with the scribes and Pharisees has reached its climax. Scribes and Pharisees are those who dictate what happiness or unhappiness is; they are those who govern consciences. Jesus, with the only proclamation of the Gospel, denounces their behavior: "They devour widows' houses and for the sake of appearance say long prayers."

Today, there are many widows like the one in Zarephath, whose story we heard in the book of Kings. In many houses and lands there is nothing to eat tomorrow. There is no future. Who will look at these widows? Who will take care of them? Jesus looks at and defends them.

He looks at them as he gazed at that widow who made her offering for the temple. Jesus sees her throwing her two coins in the treasure. No one, of course, notices her. She does not come from a noble family and so she does not attract attention; she does not belong to the world of rich and famous people so she is not noticed. However, Jesus looked with affection and admiration at that woman. Only Jesus notices her. Jesus teaches the disciples, who were absentminded or focused only on impressive things, to look with love and care at the smallest things.

It is not by chance that the evangelist locates this episode at the end of Jesus' public life and of his teaching in the temple of Jerusalem. Contrary to the young rich man who "went away grieving" because he had many riches and wanted to keep them for himself (Mk 10:22), this poor widow, by giving everything, teaches us how to love God and the Gospel. She went away happy.

ARCHBISHOP'S COLUMN

'Lord, I Do Not Refuse The Labor'

The election puts focus on the nature of the work we need to do in our time

Dear brothers and sisters in Christ,

“Non recuso laborem” — I do not refuse the labor.

These are the words of St. Martin of Tours, the 4th century bishop whose feast day we celebrate this week (Nov. 11). He appeared to be dying and, in truth, he was ready to go home to the Lord. But his flock begged him to stay with them. He prayed, simply: “Lord, if your people still need me, I am ready for the task ... I do not refuse the labor.”

Print deadlines put me in a funny position this week. As I write these words, we stand before the election. When you read them, the election will be over. I think, whichever way the results turn out, we'll be facing a mighty task. But the spirit of St. Martin of Tours can guide us in taking up the labors that belong to our time. Will you join with me in repeating his words? “Lord ... I do not refuse the labor.”

It's interesting that on St. Martin's feast day, we hear the words of St. Paul's letter to Titus: “For this reason I left you in Crete, so that you might set right what remains to be done.” St. Paul appointed Titus to do the work of building up the Church in Crete. Titus did not refuse the labor.

It's also interesting that we celebrate the feast of St. Frances Cabrini this week (Nov. 13). The first U.S. citizen to be canonized, she, too, did not refuse the labor of her time. In her case it was caring for immigrants, especially through establishing schools, hospitals and orphanages.

And it's interesting that on her feast day, we hear these words from St. Luke: “As Jesus continued His journey to Jerusalem...” The journey to Jerusalem takes up the bulk of the Gospel of Luke, spanning from chapter nine to chapter 19! Jesus simply continues to do the work appointed for Him. That work ultimately leads Him to Jerusalem and the Cross. And Jesus, looking at the Cross, will say to the Father: “I do not refuse the labor.”

Easier said than done, right?!

That's why it's consoling to note that, in the Office of Readings this week, the Church has us reading from the book of the prophet Daniel. Daniel and his companions were challenged to keep their faith in a foreign land; they did not refuse the labor. Shadrach, Meshach and Abednego were challenged to keep their faith at the cost of being thrown into the fiery furnace; they did not refuse the labor.

It's also consoling to read, this week, how “Jesus told His disciples a parable about the necessity for them to pray always without becoming weary” (Luke 18:1).

The Church is straining every muscle this week to invite and challenge us to take up the attitude of St. Martin of Tours. As you read this, and the exact contours of the work we face becomes clear, I invite you to join me in saying together: “Lord ... I do not refuse the labor.”

Sacrament of Marriage

Love is patient, love is kind; love does not envy or boast; it is not arrogant or rude. It does not insist on its own way; it is not irritable or resentful; it does not rejoice in wrongdoing, but rejoices with the truth.

About the Instructor Fr. Peter Fonseca was ordained a priest for the Archdiocese of St. Louis in 2015. He holds a Master of Arts in Theology and a Master of Divinity from Kenrick-Glennon Seminary. Additionally, he holds a Master of Science in Bioethics from the University of Mary, where he was chosen by the faculty as the distinguished graduate student, and a certification in Catholic Healthcare Ethics from the National Catholic Bioethics Center.

Having previously served as a pastor, Fr. Fonseca is now assigned as the Director of Continuing Formation for Priests for the Archdiocese of St. Louis while pursuing doctoral studies in health care ethics at St. Louis University. While studying at SLU, he has taught in the undergraduate program and served as a research fellow for the Catholic Health Association. In addition to his canonical assignments, he serves as a consultant to various parties in the Archdiocese of St. Louis and the greater St. Louis area on bioethical issues. Fr. Fonseca has presented at various conferences and seminars across the country and has contributed to local television and national radio programs.

Men of the Cathedral

November Adoration and Dinner

Catholic Men, both Cathedral parishioners and guests: we are quickly approaching the end of the Church year with Advent and Christmas coming very soon. This is the perfect time to join the Men of the Cathedral for monthly Adoration and Dinner.

Our regular attendees as well as our first-time participants find the evening to be so fulfilling. They look forward to the next month and often bring a friend or family member.

Due to the Christmas holidays, Tuesday, November 26 will be our last meeting of 2024, so don't miss it! Adoration begins at 6 PM, followed by dinner served at Boland Hall.

Confessions will be heard during Adoration.

The evening is a terrific way to reflect on your year, thank God for all the blessings He has bestowed upon you and to enjoy the friendship and fellowship of other Catholic men seeking religious fulfillment. Please RSVP to michael.weisbrod@refstl.org or 314.918.2893 by Monday, November 25. The cost is $20 per person at the door and includes dinner and beverages.

Weekly Thoughts on Giving

"I say to you, this poor widow put in more than all the other contributors to the treasury. For they all contributed out of their abundance; but she out of her poverty has put in everything she had, her whole living." (MARK 12:43-44)

Jesus gets right to the point – we are all called to give money to support the mission of the Church, regardless of our circumstance. No gift is too small or insignificant! Giving money to support the mission of our local parish is a matter of our faith, just like praying and participating in parish ministries. When you make a financial offering, is it from your "first fruits" or from what is "left over"?
