WELCOME TO OUR VISITORS

Archbishop Mitchell T. Rozanski and the people of the Archdiocese of St. Louis welcome you and hope that your time in our Mother Church may be an opportunity to share our faith and joy in Jesus Christ.

Please enjoy the beauty of this building dedicated to the glory of God and built for the inspiration of all who enter. Public tours of the Cathedral led by volunteer guides are available most weekdays, call for availability.

All visitors who are not of the Catholic faith are welcome to join us in prayer, but not to receive Holy Communion. Reception of Holy Communion is a sign of unity of faith and full membership in the Catholic community. Together let us pray for the eventual unity of all believers.

If you desire to become a member of the Catholic Church or to become a member of the Cathedral Basilica Parish please go register at <https://cathedralstl.org/new-parishioner-registration>

All contributions to the Cathedral Basilica parish, ministries, and maintenance are sincerely appreciated.

FROM OUR RECTOR

Dear Parishioners,

A word of welcome on this Easter Sunday to all our visitors to the Cathedral Basilica Parish. I hope you find this to be a welcoming community and feel at home.

From ancient times, the liturgy of Easter day has begun with the words:

Resurrexi et adhuc tecum sum – I arose, and am still with you. The liturgy sees these as the first words spoken by the Son to the Father after His resurrection, after His return from the night of death into the world of the living.

These words are taken from Psalm 138 where, originally, they had a different meaning. Psalm 138 is a song of wonder at God's omnipotence and omnipresence, a hymn of trust in the God who never allows us to fall from his hands. The Psalmist imagines himself journeying to the farthest reaches of the cosmos – and what happens to him? "If I ascend to heaven, You are there! If I make my bed in Sheol, You are there! If I take the wings of the morning and dwell in the uttermost parts of the sea, even there Your hand shall lead me, and Your right hand shall hold me. If I say, 'Let only darkness cover me'..., even the darkness is not dark to You...; for darkness is as light with You." (Ps 138:8-12)

On Easter day, the Church tells us that Jesus Christ made that journey to the ends of the universe for our sake. In the Letter to the Ephesians we read that He descended to the depths of the earth, and that the One who descended is also the One who has risen far above the heavens, that He might fill all things (cf. 4:9ff.). The vision of the Psalm thus became reality.

But these words of the Risen Christ to the Father have also become words which the Lord speaks to us: "I arose and now I am still with you," He says to each of us. "My hand upholds you. Wherever you may fall, you will always fall into My hands. I am present even at the door of death. Where no one can accompany you further, and where you can bring nothing, even there I am waiting for you, and for you I will change darkness into light."

Many thanks to everyone who has made our Easter celebrations here at the Cathedral so beautiful, from our choirs to those who decorated church. I am so grateful to you for sharing your time and your talents with our parish.

ARCHBISHOP'S COLUMN

Becoming Better Witnesses to the Gospel Proclamation

We should think of it as sharing the joy we've experienced, not coercing people to follow Jesus

Dear brothers and sisters in Christ, "You are witnesses of these things." (Luke 24:48) It would be helpful, as part of our Easter celebration, to think about how we can give better witness to the "kerygma" — the basic proclamation of the Gospel. Here are some ideas.

1. God's plan for us.

God's plan and desire, rooted in His love for us, is that we would live forever with Him in heaven. How can we give witness to that?

Maybe the way St. John Paul II did — through our knowledge of salvation history and how it begins with the mystery of God's eternal life, the various ways God enters into human history and how we are invited to enter into God's life.

Or maybe the way C.S. Lewis did — through our attention to our own experience of a longing that can't be fulfilled by anything in this world, a hunger planted in us as a sign that our whole being is oriented toward eternity.

2. Sin and its consequences

While God's plan and desire is for us to enter eternal life, something is wrong. Our lives are like a dislocated bone: Something is out of alignment ... and it hurts. If we're sons and daughters of the king — and we are! — we're living in captivity. How can we give witness to that?

Maybe through our own personal experience of sin. Which of us can't pray Psalm 51 from the depths of our own experience? "Have mercy on me God, in your kindness. In your compassion, blot out my offense ... My sin is always before me."

Maybe through our knowledge of biblical examples — the book of Judges is an excellent case study, showing a repeated cycle of sin and its consequences. Or maybe simply by reading the daily news, which can be painful to read. Why is the news painful to read? Because things are what they are, but something tells us they are not as they ought to be.

WITH GLADNESS

3. God's answer to our problem: Jesus
Fortunately for us, God makes our problem His problem. He brings a solution to our "dislocation" by sending His Son, Jesus, to live, die and rise from the dead, that the gates of heaven might be opened to sinners. How can we give witness to that? Maybe through sharing the basic Gospel message with others — watch how Peter does it in Acts 2, 3 and 4!

Or maybe through sharing our own personal relationship with Jesus Christ — that's not the exclusive domain of our Protestant brothers and sisters!

4. The invitation to respond and follow Jesus
Jesus came to redeem us. But that doesn't make our redemption automatic! He opens the door; we have to choose to follow Him.

When it comes to giving witness to this we tend to think of "proselytizing" — brow-beating people into following Jesus. But that's manipulation, not faith. Then, because we're afraid of proselytizing, we tend to fall silent and not share the call to follow Jesus. It's different if we think of it as an invitation — I've experienced joy, the indwelling of the Holy Spirit, a real relationship with Jesus, a foretaste of eternal life. Would you like to have that?

Conclusion

Friends, that may seem like a lot! Maybe it is. We're not going to get good at giving witness to the elements of the kerygma overnight. But right now, as Church, we're not good at any of them!

So, following the example of Mary Magdalene, how about we start working on it? Maybe, if we get a little better every year, the next decade will see us establish a vibrant culture of evangelization, where almost everyone knows how to give witness to all the elements of the kerygma.

Can I get a witness?
